THANKSGIVING WEATHER TO BE NASTY

Washington C.H. Fire Loss Said Near $1 Million

Farm Supply Firm Falls as Explosions Dot Raging Blaze

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—A raging fire punctuated by explosions and the sound of falling timbers, spelled the end of a two-story farm supply manufacturing firm here Tuesday night.

The Webber C. French Farm Supply Co. was destroyed in a spectacular blaze fought by fire companies from 10 communities. Flames shot as high as 150 feet.

At least two men were injured in the blaze which began about 5 p.m. Kenneth McDaniel, about 38, was taken to a Columbus hospital with a skull fracture. A worker at the firm, he was attempting to rescue records.

Charles Seymour, 68, another employe, was hospitalized here with head injuries.

A spark in a sawdust blower may have been the cause of the blaze, reports said. The first explosion knocked out the front of the building. The blast apparently was caused by paint. Loss may reach one million dollars, observers said.

Flying sparks carried to adjoining stockyards, homes, railroad freight cars and communications lines. Several of the freight cars were destroyed. Other blazes were quickly controlled.

Some communications lines between here and Cincinnati were knocked out temporarily. The Highway Patrol said part of its communications with its Wilmington office were cut. The lines ran along the railroad which adjoined the factory.

The French Co., which makes such items as hog and cattle feeders, was reportedly heavily stocked with wood and finished products. No official damage estimate has been made.

Fire companies from as far away as Wilmington, 22 miles southwest, answered the call. City police and Highway Patrolmen had to cope with scores of onlookers crowding the streets.

Sam B. Marting purchased the French Co. last year. About 30 persons were employed there. Part of the factory occupied the old Wonder Stove Co. A new addition had been built recently.

Marting was in the news just last week when the Miami Trace Board of Education sued him and two Columbus attorneys for nearly a half-million dollars.

Gumdrop Gives Youngster, 11, Early Vacation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thanksgiving "vacation" arrived early for Charlotte Sexten, 11, of nearby Westerville — all because bus.

It was against the rules to eat on the bus, said Westerville School Superintendant Ray Morris and until Charlotte's parents reassure driver Darwin Rees it won't happen again, Charlotte can't ride the bus.

Her father, Nelson Sexten, while continuing to send Charlotte's sister, Phyllis, 9, to Hawthorne School on the school bus, isn't sending Charlotte to school at all.

"I'm a property owner and a taxpayer and I will not take her to school as long as a bus goes right by our front door," he maintains—so Charlotte hasn't been to school the past four school days.

Morris said the regulation, in effect for years, is to prevent children from throwing orange peels, apple cores and candy wrappers at each other.

If the Sextens can settle the matter with driver Rees, who caught the sixth-grader in the act, Morris will take no truancy action against her, he promised.

Two Crashes In This Area Injure Five

Two auto accidents injured five persons in this area yesterday. The crashes were investigated by the State Highway Patrol and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The first crash was at 1:20 p. m. when a car driven by Noah Shaffer, 18, of 129 York St., careened off a roadway about two miles south of Circleville.

Shaffer suffered a forehead laceration and contusions. Passengers injured were Richard Sheline, 17, of 375 Town St., and Donald Wolf, 17, of 379 Weldon Ave. Two other passengers were not injured.

Sheline suffered a deep laceration of the right cheek. Wolf received contusions on the forehead. All three were taken to Berger Hospital.

DEPUTY Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said Shaffer and his companions were on a hunting trip. The road they were using is owned by the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Shaffer said his northbound car sent out of control when it struck some brush, then rolled over a bank at a curve. Deputy Radcliff said the auto was heavily damaged.

The second accident was at 7:10 p. m. on the Boggs road near Atlanta. State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller said a car driven by Marvin Manbeavers, 21, Route 1, Jeffersonville, crashed off the highway, struck a tree and a guy wire on an electric pole, then rolled over.

Two passengers were injured. Linda Funk, 18, New Holland, suffered left hand injuries. Sharon Flaker, 14, Williamsport received a lacerated lip and a nose bleed. Both were treated by family physicians.

Nola Flaker, 17, another passenger, was not injured, Patrolman Miller said.

The patrolman said the car, headed south, went off the left side of the road at a curve. He said the auto was heavily damaged.

Miller said power was off in the area for a short time. He said the impact against the electric poll-pulled wires loose.

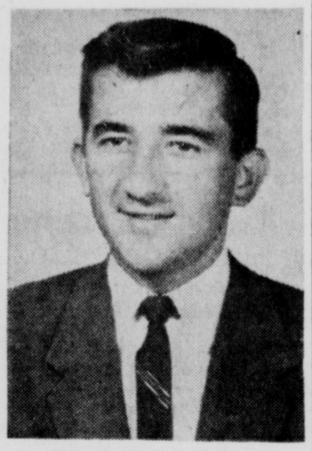
Sheriff Radcliff, Solicitor Robert Huffer Get Petitions

CHARLES H. RADCLIFF



ROBERT H. HUFFER

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today took out nominating petitions from the County Board of Elections for re-election.

The 64-year-old sheriff is seeking his 10th consecutive term, the longest in Ohio's history and could possibly be the longest tenure of office for a sheriff in the United States.

Radcliff is a native of Circleville, born on S. Scioto St. He attended school in Jackson Twp. where he farmed with his father.

After his schooling he farmed in conjunction with his father before spending 14 months in the U. S. Army. Most of Army career was spent with the 603rd Combat Engineer Battalion overseas.

• • •

HE RETURNED to farming after World War I for three years. Then he was employed with Rader and Neff road contractors.

He spent one year in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad and another year with the Standard Oil of Company before returning here to work 6½ years with the Pickaway Dairy.

He first ran for election 29 years ago for a two-year term. He was re-elected for two more successive two-year terms before the State Legislature extended the term to four years and made it possible for sheriffs to serve as many terms as possible. Before, a sheriff could serve only two terms.

The Democratic incumbent is a former member of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, serving as president one year. He has been a member of the Elks Lodge for approximately 28 years.

His other fraternal and civic organizations include Blue Lodge Circleville Chapter No. 23; Intyrian Council No. 60; Scioto Commandery No. 35; past president, trustee and now treasurer of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Assn., of which he is a life member. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Radcliff has two children. They are Mrs. Charles Gray, Lancaster, and Dwight, Route 3, who is his chief deputy. He has four grandchildren.

• • •

THE 32ND DEGREE Mason and his wife, Sadie, reside at 121 W. Franklin St. He also is a member of the Scottish and Alladin Temple, Columbus, the Pickaway Shrine Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and a charter member of both the local American Legion and Kiwanis Club.

Other affiliations include National Assn. of Sheriffs, Fraternal Order of Eagles and Redmen. When Radcliff first entered office he received $126.35 a month or $1,516.20 per year.

His present salary is $3,900 a year and it is scheduled to increase to $5,100 starting the new term, Jan. 1, 1961. If 1960 census figures are used, the sheriff should receive $5,300.

Robert H. Huffer, 426 N. Court St., yesterday took out nominating petitions from the Pickaway County Board of Elections seeking election as County Prosecuting Attorney.

Huffer, re-elected November 3 as Circleville Solicitor, is a Circleville native and a 1948 graduate of Circleville High School.

He received an AB from Ohio State University in 1952 and LL.B degree from OSU's College of Law in 1954, being admitted to the Ohio State Bar that same year.

He spent two years as a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army as a Nike missile officer, stationed in Virginia. After his honorable discharge he opened law practice here in May, 1956.

• • •

HE WAS ELECTED City Solicitor in November, 1956. Huffer presently has an established practice at 210 N. Court St.

The Democratic executive committee chariman, post he was named to fill in the fall of 1956, is a member and past director of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

He is a trustee of the Pickaway Country Club, member of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce and Circleville Booster Club.

Presently he is serving as president of the Pickaway County Bar Assn. He is 28-years-old and a former fraternity president at OSU.

The present prosecutor is Ray W. Davis, 114½ N. Court St., a Republican. He has indicated he will not seek re-election.

The present prosecutor's salary is $3,900. The recent increase, granted by the General Assembly, will increase the salary to $4,300 starting Jan. 1, 1961.

This figure does not include the county's paying of all utility bills, rent, fulltime secretary and investigation fees.

No Herald Tomorrow

In order that the employes of The Circleville Herald might spend the Thanksgiving holiday with their families there will be no edition of the paper tomorrow.

All regular features and comics which ordinarily appear in tomorriw's paper will be in Friday's edition.

Year's First Snow Blanket Covers County

Roads Treacherous, But Officials Say To Be Clear Later

A wintery holiday weekend will be experienced over Thanksgiving by Pickaway County residents as Mother Nature last night placed her first snow blanket on the area.

Sheriff's Department officials report that snow flurries began falling around 9 p. m. and continued througn the night and early morning.

At approximately 5 a. m. today, a heavier snow started falling, letting up around 9 a. m. County Weatherman Harry Styers reported .06 of an inch of snow fell, giving the area approximately an inch of white "stuff" on the ground.

This year's first snow came four days before the initial snowfall of last year, which descended November 28.

• • •

WEATHER observers informed Ohioans today not to worry about a repeat snowfall of 1950, when the midwest, especially central Ohio, was inundated for nearly week due to the heaviest snow in many years.

The weather forecast for the holiday is cloudy and cold today, tonight and Thursday with light snow flurries drifting in throughout the weekend.

Highways were reported treacherous, slippery and ice this morning but both the County Engineer's Department and the State Highway Garage said most roads should be clear by noon.

Sheriff's officials warned residents to take it easy on township roads and especially bridges. There have been three reports of trucks stalled on the highways due to ice and snow and Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff has investigated one accident of an automobile slipping off the road.

Ed Shellhamer, County Engineering superintendent reported county roads will be in fine shape by noon if no more snow falls.

He said 14 trucks are out salting and sanding county roads. No scrapers are being used for the snow is turning to slush soon after hitting the ground.

• • •

STATE HIGHWAY superintendent Ernie Weiler said all state roads were treacherous and icy early today but should be clear and safe by noon.

He stated that all primary roads were dangerous for driving but State Routes 22 and 23 were attacked first with sand and salt to clear them as soon as possible.

The Columbus Weather Bureau forecast 35-36 degree temperatures for today, dropping to 23 degrees tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to hit 40 degrees.

Although 0.3 of an inch o fpercipitation has fallen in the past two days, the area still trails the average monthly rainfall by 0.44 of an inch.

The year's rainfall trails the yearly average by 2.58 inches. The Scioto River is normal at 2:45 feet.

1619 First Year For Thanksgiving

On Dec. 4, 1619, a tiny ship anchored in what is now the James River in Virginia. Debarking, the ship's 38 passengers knelt in prayer and celebrated the day as one of thanksgiving — possibly the first such observance in the New World.

Two years later the Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth set aside a day for thanksgiving and Massachusetts Bay Colony celebrated a thanksgiving day starting in 1630. In 1863, President Lincoln designated the fourth Thursday in November as America's Thanksgiving Day.

The Englishmen who landed at the mouth of the James River in 1619 had sailed from their homeland Sept. 16, 1619, to join the growing colony in Virginia. Their first order had read:

"Impr wee ordaine that the day of our ships arrivall at the place assigned for plantacon in the land of Virginia shall be yearly and perpetually keept holy as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God."

Accounts survive of the ship's order and of the fact that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated. But whether it was commemorated from that year on is unknown.

An Indian massacre in 1622 wiped out the small settlement at Harrison's Landing, now the site of Berkeley Plantation, Va. The only survivor was a 12-year-old boy who was carried away by the Indians.

As near as can be figured, the ship was captained by John Woodleefe. His descendants claim that his orders, a copy of which is contained in the "Virginia Papers" described in the May, 1899, Bulletin of the New York Public Library, were given the captain by King James.

Prominent Americans Tell Meaning of Thanksgiving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Giving thanks at Thanksgiving can mean gratitude for many many things — health, success, peace, love.

To underscore the deeper meaning of the holiday, The Associated Press asked a number of prominent Americans this question:

On Thanksgiving, 1959, what are the things in your own life you have most cause to be thankful for?

Thought-provoking replies came from figures well known in government, science, the arts.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist—"I find it impossible to speak of any one circumstance for which I am thankful. There are many to mention, both general and personal.

"In the first place, as a physician, I am particularly thankful for what has happened in medicine during my lifetime in the U.S.A., with the remarkable advances that have come. But I realize at the same time how much more remains to be done, especially with the new challenge to health that in some ways may have been the result of the faulty use made of our prosperity."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon — "Americans have countless reasons to thank God on this day. As I think of the meaning of Thanksgiving, I can't help but find running through my mind the oppressions I have seen on trips to totalitarian countries. I am reminded that all of us should be thankful for something we ordinarily take for granted—the freedoms we cherish in America."

Arthur Godfrey, television personality who underwent surgery for lung cancer last spring—"On Thanksgiving Day, 1959, I am thankful to be alive and healthy."

Nathan M. Pusey, head of Harvard University—"Just as all of us are personally grateful for what school and college training did for us, I believe we Americans should give thanks today that the purposes and needs of education are coming to be more widely cherished and increasingly advanced by the general public."

Henry A. Wallace , vicepreisdent under President Franklin D. Roosevelt and now specializing in progressive farming—"I am exceedingly thankful that we have a president who could say at Abilene, Kan., on Oct. 14:

"'No other aspiration dominates my own being so much as this: That the nations of the East and West will find dependable, self-guaranteeing methods to reduce the vast and essentially wasteful expenditures for armaments, so that a part of the savings may be used in a comprehensive and effective effort for world improvement.'"

Clare Boothe Luce, former U.S. ambassador to Italy — "I am grateful that the United States is a land where so many people are so free to make so many choices among so many things and ideas. I am grateful to all legislators who know that their task is the orderly increase of every citizen's area of material choices; to our educators who understand that their task is to form every citizen's mind to make reasonable choices; and to our churchmen of all faiths."

Thursday Due To Be Chilly; Snow Likely

Cold Front Moves Through Ohio Ahead Of Holiday Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanksgiving Day in Ohio will be nasty weatherwise — a good day to linger longer than usual at the festive board and with old friends.

The weatherman says Thursday will be chilly with snow likely in most parts of the state and with rain or snow in southern areas.

A cold front moved through Ohio late Tuesday, changing rain showers to snow flurries. All parts of Ohio were reporting scattered snow this morning along with winds gusting 25 to 35 m.p.h.

Here is the Ohio forecast for the next five days:

Temperatures will average 6 to 10 degrees below normal. Normal high 43 north, 46 south; normal low 29-30. Continued cold through the weekend, beginning to moderate on Monday. Herter Foresees New Pact With Russia on Berlin Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter thinks the Western powers could negotiate with The Soviet Union a new and better plan for the future of disputed Berlin—but he is by no means sure they will be able to do so in the summit discussions now foreseen.

This cautiously hopeful view was expressed by Herter at a news conference Tuesday when he struck back at criticism of the administration's Berlin attitude voiced by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a speech last week.

Acheson contended that an effort to make a Berlin deal with the Soviet Union would result simply in a defeat for the West. Negotiation, Acheson said, "is only a polite, misleading phrase for a retreat and an acceptance of Russian terms."

Herter told questioning reporters that what Acheson had done "was to build up a number of straw men and then knock them down."

Acheson assumed, he said, that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is standing on the same position he proclaimed a year ago when he exploded the Berlin crisis by threatening to force the United States, Britain and France to pull out of West Berlin.

Actually, Herter said, the Soviet position has moved "a very long way" from that.

Furthermore, Herter said, Acheson lacked "any grounds for assuming that we were necessarily going to make concessions which would be detrimental (to the preservation of West Berlin's freedom)."

Herter said the Western powers should be able to agree in Paris next month on a proposed date for a Big Four summit meeting, and he knows of no plan to delay such a meeting until 1961, as London reports have speculated.

The Berlin issue is one of the major topics due for discussion with Khrushchev when the summit meeting is held, probably next spring.

The present position of Western forces in West Berlin is based on war-won rights of occupation. The Western powers supply their forces there, and civilian goods move to the city, through corridors across Communist East Germany. Khrushchev threatened a year ago to turn over total control of the corridor to East Germany, which might then have closed the corridor.

Ohio Patrolmen Nab Trio Of North Carolina Escapees

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — Fast work by Ohio Highway Patrolmen near here Tuesday night netted three escapees from a North Carolina road gang wanted in the killing of a guard.

Swooping in from two directions, patrolmen nabbed the trio as they attempted to stop cars on U.S. 35 east of here in an apparent scheme to switch cars.

Whereabouts of the men was tipped to the patrol by a truck driver. He noted a car pulled off the road with West Virginia license tags he had seen on a wanted notice.

Monday, five men broke from a road gang near Jefferson, N.C., shooting and fatally injuring work foreman Fields Absher, 55. Three of the men commandeered a car at gunpoint Tuesday in Beckley, W. Va.

Patrolmen squelched the trio's plans to stop other vehicles Tuesday night. While other patrol units moved into position, one officer stopped vehicles and warned them not to pick up the hitchhikers. From other motorists he learned of the fugitives' movements.

The three patrolmen pounced on the surprised escapees so quickly they offered no resistance. Two of the fugitives were in the roadway, the third lay on their car's back seat.

"The fellow on the back seat didn't do anything when he found himself looking up the end of a 12-gauge shotgun," said Patrolman Seth Inskeep, one of the arresting officers.

The three men nabbed were (with their sentences):

Tommy Stiles, 27, of Asheville, N. S., 18-25 years for armed robbery and larceny; George Brown, 29, of North Wilkesboro, N. C., 22-26 years for attempted criminal assault, and John Allan Henry, of Miami, Fla., 10 years for armed robbery.

Inskeep said the men apparently didn't realize they had killed the North Carolina guard. The Ohio patrol is holding the trio pending action by North Carolina officials.

The two remaining escapees, James T. Waller, 35, and John W. Burgess Jr., 33, are being sought in Mercer County, W. Va. Reports say they may have been sighted in that area.

Religious Film Slated Tomorrow

Daniel Grubb, presiding minister of the Circleville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses today announced that he had arranged for a free showing of the 1-hour color film "Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses" at Kingdon Hall, 149 York St. Time of showing will be at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

The public press, newsreel and other news channels gave worldwide attention to this assembly last summer acclaiming it as the world's largest Christian convention. For eight days it packed both Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City. A quarter-million delegates from 123 lands were present at the climax of the event to hear Nathan H. Knorr, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society's President, speak on the subject "God's Kingdon Rules—Is the World's End Near"?

Engineering Firm Estimates Cost Of Sewer Plant

Pickaway County Commissioner consultant engineers, Elmer Barrett and Associates, Chillicothe recently estimated the cost of operating and maintianing the Knollwood sewer district at $1,475 per year.

The engineering firm said that if members of the County Engineering office would perform the necessary maintenance and inspection of the plant, the swere district operation could run as low as $640 per year.

This lower cost would include the electrical power used to operate the plant plus a monthly inspection by a firm specializing in sewer plants inspections.

False Rumor Is Blamed in College Fuss

ADA, Ohio (AP)—A cross burning by students at Ohio Northern University resulted from a misunderstanding, F. Bringle McIntosh, university president, said yesterday.

A cross was burned in front of the administration building Sunday, and about 50 hooded students tried to burn a cross in front of the home of Dr. Robert R. Huddleston, religious counselor.

McIntosh said a "false rumor" started all the fuss. The rumor, he said, was that Dr. Huddleston had said Catholics on the campus of the Methodist school "are not cooperating in a religion and life program conducted . . . with the participation of leaders of all faiths."

McIntosh said he spent "all day yesterday tracing down the rumor. I met with 50 student leaders of fraternities and educational groups, with faculty members and school officials and am thoroughly confident that the statements attributed to Dr. Huddleson are completely false."

I was McIntosh who broke up the cross burning attempt at Dr. Huddleston's home. The students, wearing paper hoods, carried banners reading, "Down with Happy Bob" and "Happy Bob Must Go."

McIntosh said he had no idea who the students were and does not intend to take any disciplinary action "because it was thoroughly a misunderstanding."

He said there is "no foundation to any belief that there is religious prejudice on campus. Although we are a Methodist school, our discussions on religious and public issues last week included participation by leaders of most religions."

Financial Analysts Grow Cautious on 'Golden Sixties'

NEW YORK (AP)—The "golden sixties" are just around the corner—but Wall Street's attitude to them is inged wih caution.

Time was when stock market analysts spoke in glowing terms of the opportunities for profit .. that lay in the '60s. They based it greatly on the fact tha the rash of warime marriages in 1941-'45 produced a bumper crop of babies—and these 'babies' would start marrying and setting up homes of their own beginning in the '60s.

They'd want new houses, new cars, new refrigerators, new television sets — everything a young family wants—and the companies that make these things would enjoy a booming business. Their stocks, too, would soar on the nation's exchanges, it was said.

As the '60s approach, however, they are beclouded by—

An unresolved steel strike.

A possible railroad strike.

Strikes in other metalworking industries.

Stiffer interest rates.

Increasing foreign competition.

A drain of gold from the country.

Apparent Soviet superiority in missiles, and a continued cold war.

Veteran stock market analyst Edson Gould of Arthur Wiesenberger & Co., a distinctly upper-bracket investment house, looked at these elements and said: "As I see it, the outlook is not good. For the immediate future, the economy looks overdeveloped and vulnerable. I advise cauion in the stock market—keep your funds no more than 65 per cent invested. Save 35 per cent for a reserve."

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, estimes that by 1970 the total goods and services produced by the United States will rise from the 1959 estimated total of 450 billion (b) dollars to about 700 billion (b) dollars. He anicipates a population of almost 215 million in the United States.

"The American economy in 1960," he said, "stands on the brink of an incredible decade."

He predicted that the number of Americans who own stock will increase from the present total of 12½ million to 22 million by 1970.

"The possible shape of tomorrow is appealing, but achieving it ought not to be oversimplified," said Funston. "For we are also up against stupendous stumbling blocks—an appalling air of complacency the continued danger of inflation, an unrealistic tax structure that discourages sufficient growth and an apparent unwillingness to eliminate featherbedding and high-cost production."

FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

HARRY RAYMOND POPE

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

HARRY RAYMOND POPE is being sought as one of the "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for burglary and assault with a dangerous weapon. These charges arose out of a drugstore robbery in Phoenix, Ariz., on Nov. 23, 1958, when Pope was struck by a policeman's bullet while attempting to flee from the scene.

Pope was hospitalized, losing his right eye, while free on bail. He failed to appear for trial on April 22, 1959, in Maricopa County, Arizona, Superior Court. He was charged in a Federal warrant issued at Phoenix on May 20, 1959, with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for burglary and assault with a dangerous weapon.

The fugitive, also known as Emanuel Moon and Harry Ray Pope, has worked as truck driver, welder, laborer and mechanic.

Pope has been convicted for burglary, simple burglary, attempted burglary, illegal possession of narcotics and driving intoxicated.

The wanted one-eyed man has a quick temper, a sadistic nature and "nothing to live for." Allegedly he has with him at all times a .357 Magnum revolver, .45 caliber automatic pistol, .38 caliber snub-nose revolver and a sawed-off shot gun. He should be considered extremely dangerous and he threatens to kill arresting officers.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

Electronic Auto Safety

In achieving greater traffic safety, which is most important—curbing irresponsible and careless drivers, or making automobiles and highways safer?

Some new thoughts on this old question are offered in a report by the Safety Research Institute of Columbia University.

The researchers found that most accidents are caused by the inherent limitations of human beings to cope with the problems in driving high-powered automobiles. "No driver is immune to unsafe driving behavior," the report states. And the human factor is blamed for 80 to 85 per cent of all accidents.

From this, the experts drew the conclusion that long-range approaches will be necessary if driving is to be improved. But they despaired of any success in this field immediately.

So, they truned to the improvement of automobiles as the way to cut the traffic toll now. The declared that 75 per cent of all traffic fatalities could be reduced to injuries if cars included shock-absorbing interiors and doors that did not fly open, seats and cushions that did not become displaced, and adequate devices such as safety belts to keep people in their seats. And, the report said, many accidents could be prevented entirely with automatic car and road devices to measure such "tension responses" as the strength of the driver's grip on the steering wheel, the heart rate, frequency and magnitude of head movements, breathing cycle characteristics and hand tremor.

These devices, now possible in a system of electronic highways, would warn a driver when he was incapable of driving safely and "even relieve him of control and take over the driving."

Everyone Can Be Grateful

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Thanksgiving is a time of summary gratitude.

Each person has his own private roll call of appreciation. But practically everyone can be grateful that:

Thanksgiving day doesn't fall on a Monday.

Nikita Khrushchev isn't twins.

The national election isn't until next year.

Declining buying power of money hasn't yet forced racetracks to put a $3-sign over the $2 window.

The holiday piece de resistance is turkey and not ostrich. (Think how weary you'd get of ostrich hash!)

The hard-hit television industry still has one thing to fall back on —Milton Berle.

The country no longer needs a good five-cent cigar. (It needs a good two-for-a-quarter cigar.)

Congress hasn't gotten around to investigating professional wrestling.

Santa Claus is still a full month away.

The football season is about over, and we won't have to worry about warming up baseball's hot stove league for at least six weeks.

The man in the moon still doesn't have foreign company.

Space suits won't have pleated pants—or need to be set off by a necktie.

The little folk from Mars haven't landed. (Or have they?)

You can charge things at the stores now and not have to start paying until January.

From now until Christmas all children, including teen-agers, will be on their good behavior.

Sex, despite all rumors to the contrary, is indubitably here to stay.

On one day in one country in the world no one Thursday has to go to bed hungry.

Does U.S. Mean Uncle Sucker?

By George Sokolsky

The politician, in a free country, prefers optimism. He likes to please as many voters as he can and he likes to voters to think well of him. He exhibits a keen mind by a swift answer to the most intricate problems, even if his answers are only glib.

When, however, it comes to such a subject as the continued outflow of the dollar from this country, a politician's optimism can be very dangerous.

As John R. Gibson, in "The Wall Street Journal," correctly says of the excessive outflow of both the dollar and gold:

"At stake, ultimately, may be nothing less than the danger that the dollar, which has been the world's strongest currency, might have to be devalued —an event that would mean painful price rises and savings losses for Americans."

Dollars are leaving this country in many ways and for many reasons. Foremost are our numerous forms of foreign aid, much of which goes to countries that no longer require aid.

The problem has ceased to be economic and has become political. We aid to keep a country either on our side or at least neutral. In several instances we have exported a great many dollars to Tito, Nehru and Nasser and have got no genuine goodwill in return. This is probably true of much of the $100,000,000,000 or more of foreign aid which we have scattered over the Earth like a drunkard.

Then, of course, there is the upkeep of about 650,000 American troops abroad in some 250 bases. The outflow of dollars to those countries where our bases are situated is enormous, not only for building materials, maintenance, but also for the daily expenditures of each military man and his family, if any. All those dollars go abroad and they do not come back to the United States fast enough.

In addition to all this, there are other forms of aid and private investments abroad, and the deposits in Switerland and other countries to avoid and evade taxes.

These are matters about which our government has always known and the danger has always been apparent. The Administration has not only not taken any rational steps to protect the American dollar and o safeguard our gold reserves but it has continued to spend abroad and to support the currencies of other nations until now we are in real danger. And so now we act as though we are running to a fire.

A new complication is the establishment of the Six Nation Common Market in Europe; led by West Germany and France, and the Seven Nation Free Market led by Great Britain. To this must be added the Soviet Bloc nations. These three groupings of countries can close the continent of Europe to American trade. We shall, of course, belatedly take reprisals and the world will be in such a trade war as has never been witnessed before.

One thing that both the Common Market and the Free Market must not force the American people to believe is this conclusion:

"Sure, when during World War II and between 1945 and 1957, we broke and in despair, you Americans very generously carried the burden of looking after all of us and the rest of the world to the tune of close to $100,000,000,000. You practically put a capital levy on your people. You taxed their initiative away. You permitted us to invade your markets and in many instances you arranged it so that your people paid more for goods than was charged in the world market.

"We admit that you have been very generous and that your generosity is a mark of the progress of civiliation.

"But now we are doing very well, thank you. In fact, we are doing remarkably well. We know that you are in trouble and we are very sorry for you. In fact, we should like to help you.

"But please, don't do anything to rock the boat. There are practically no steps you can take that will not hurt us. Therefore, please be careful not to take such steps as will hurt us."

To that only needs to be added the salutation, Uncle Sucker!

Dear Sir:

Your last article on retarded children greatly interested me as I am a mother of a retarded child who is now in kindergarden.

"Indeed we do have a great problem. The problem as far as I am concerned, along with my husband, is what we can do to best benefit our loved ones.

"We want the very best of schooling for our little boy as he is capable of learning but it takes a longer period of time.

"He has a wonderful teacher now, but her time is limited as to the time she can spend with him as an individual.

"I praise the people who have their names on the list that are willing to help our children as teachers.

"If the money has been ready for us to use for two years, how much longer will it take? I think all parents should be contacted soon, as to a meeting with the people who are to start the ball rolling.

"These dear children are getting older and need the guidance now, not years from now.

"If transportation is a problem, I'm sure that it can be solved once everyone works together.

"Please give the name of the people to be contacted who are in control of this great need.

"These children are tomorrow's adults. Let them earn their own way and make a place in their own community."

Sincerely,
Mrs. E. F. Siniff

P. S. "I know for a fact that ungraded classes are the thing. Our own personal doctor, for our son, said that was really the answer for our retarted child.

"I also want to add that those parties who have not done their part in starting a schooling program should be thoroughly ashamed not to have the interest in such a great problem. Evidentally they have no loved ones in this position. If they did I'm sure this problem would have been approached long before now.

"I also wish to thank this newspaper for the interest it has shown.

"Will everyone please help to work on this worthwhile cause. You can never be sure this terrible tragedy will not strike at you.

"Retardation has no preference to the rich or the poor."

"The milkman's in love with my daughter!"

Not All Heart Ills Serious

By Herman N. Bundesen M.D.

Heart disease generally results in heart trouble. But heart trouble does not necessarily result from heart disease.

Some heart troubles are simply that—troubles. They have no connection with any disease.

Some of them should cause no concern, others are signals of real trouble. Still other signals, such as shortness of breath, might mean something relatively unimportant.

We call these fairly common complaints "functional heart trouble." Heart trouble can be traced to these conditions far more often than it can to heart disease.

The usual symptoms of functional heart trouble are pains in the chest, heart-ache, faintness, easy fatigue and irregular heartbeats.

Trimbling, dizziness and sighing might be other signals.

Now pain in the chest, even near the heart, does not necessarily mean that you have heart trouble. It might be caused by something completely unrelated to the most important of all organs.

Nor is irregular beating of the heart always something to get excited about. Although it might feel as though your heart skips a beat, this really is not the case. Acturally, the sensation is caused by extra beats.

The heart may beat very rapidly for brief periods without anything really serious being wrong. Maybe you have been drinking too much alcohol or coffee. Too much smoking also can cause changes in the rythm of the heart.

Heart murmurs also often worry prople needlessly.

I don't mean to imply by all of this that the heart irregularities which I have mentioned should be ignored. Unfortunately, we can't often tell the harmless from the harmful without a thorough examination. Obviously, then, you should report every odd occurrence to your doctor.

But if he tells you that your heart trouble is "functional," and not to worry about it, believe him. Sometimes so-called heart trouble is completely harmless.

Big Insurance Firm Claimed Near Insolvent

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 million dollars in savings deposits are jeopardized by "a nationwide fraud," New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today.

He said an almost insolvent insurance company operating out of a back room in Tangier, Morocco, is the insurer of savings accounts in eight savings and loan associations.

Lefkowitz obtained a State Supreme Court order to examine 46 witnesses in his investigation of the international operation.

He said at a news conference that the savings and loan associations solicited deposits through mail and newspaper advertising offering a 5 per cent return.

He identified the Tangier firm as the International Guaranty & Insurance Co.

The court order, signed by Justice Jacob Markowitz, named three institutions in Chicago, two in Idaho and one each in Utah, Washington and Maryland.

Lefkowitz contended that the insurance company does not have sufficient assets to insure the depositors' accounts. He said the savings and loan associations "knew or should have known that false and fraudulent statements were contained in their own promotional literature and in the promotional literature of International Guaranty."

Western U.S. Steel Firms under Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Western steel processors today studied a government civil suit charging they conspired to eliminate competition in steel bars for concrete in seven Western states.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asked that the Western Reinforcing Steel Fabricators Assn. of Oakland be dissolved and that it and 18 other defendants, including Bethelehm and U.S. Steel, be declared conspirators in violation of antitrust statues. The complaint said they conspired to restrict foreign imports and impede small fabricators, and used non-competitive and collusive bids to control the market in the rough reinforcing steel used in concrete known as rebars.

Give Yuletide Gift to Home

Most Appliances Make Life Easier

Perhaps this is the year to switch from a personal gift for him other and give something for the home.

Any housewife likes to have her household chores eased. Perhaps she could use a new automatic washer with matching dryer. One of the new washers comes equipped with a dispenser that automatically performs the bleaching chore.

If she's an amateur seamstress she will be forever enamored with a sewing machine—a new streamlined portable, or one of the stylish cabinet models, depending on her needs.

If she or he—or both—has a weight problem, a reducing couch or belt will be a gift that will reduce weight as well as tension.

A reclinning lounge chair will win the approval of the man of the house. And for a msuically-inclined family, a portable electric organ or a stereophonic hi-fi set will win applause.

Buying for a young ciuple? How about a table lighter, one of the beautiful new models fired by butane gas that will light for more than a year on one filling? Or for a conversation piece, a photo-electric cell clock that obtains its energy from the sun; the price of conversation is only $3700.

Here Is Gift For Children At Christmas

AP Newsfeatures

Christmas is the time for presents. The best presents are not always the expensive ones, but the thoughtful ones.

Take a good look at your youngster. If you have one child or more anywhere between the ages of 6 and 14, I'll make a picture of his or her life. Not all youngsters will fit, of course, but see where yours does.

The child goes to school — that one is easy.

Very likely he rides the school bus, or else you drive him to school, or maybe he goes in a car pool. There will be some children who walk or ride their own bikes to school. These don't fit this part of my picture.

In school he sits almost all day. For the younger children there may be a short recess time when he plays on the playground. He eats lunch at school, maybe has a little time for play after lunch, maybe not.

After school he rides the bus home, raids the refrigerator and settles down in front of the TV. Those who go outdoors and play vigorously are the ones who don't fit my picture.

Dinner time comes along and then there is homework to do until bedtime.

This is the life led by a huge number of children in this highly mechanized society of ours. The child spends a tremendous amount of his waking hours sitting and mighty little of it in vigorous activity. Gone are the days when children had to fill the woodbox before breakfast, lug out the ashes in the afternoon, walk long distances to school.

And what's happening to our children who enjoy the sitting life? They may be well nourished and seldom sick and they know a lot of facts, but their bodies are softening up under their soft life.

If this is so, we must go on a campaign to see that our children exercise more. We cannot manufacture woodboxes and ash cans, nor of course do we want to. But we can think up some forms of exercise that are fun. Then we need to provide the equipment and courage its use.

Schools need to do a better job in their physical education departments and maybe you as a member of the P-TA can encourage this, but in the meantime, how about some home gymnastics?

All of this leads up to my suggestion for Christmas.

How about rigging up a chinning bar?

It can be set up in a doorway. All you need is a piece of metal pipe just long enough to span a doorway and wooden supports nailed to the door frame into which the bar will fit. You can have several sets of supports at different heights for different children and also for different heights for different stunts. In addition to the bar and its supports you need a mat to soften the inevitable falls. An old mattress is ideal for this purpose.

Some suggestions about all the things your children can do on a chinning bar as well as why regular exercise is so important for our children can be found in Bonnie Prudden's book "Is Your Child Really Fit?" published by Harpers.

From a camera columnist's notebook:

Looking ahead. . .now's the time for camera fans to start on their photographic Christmas cards. . .the Yuletide season has a habit of sneaking up on you.

Looking further ahead: cross off Yugoslavia as a 1960 vacation possibility. Returning West German tourists reports new roadside warning signs in Yugoslavia — a black camera silhouette on a round metal plate crossed by two diagonal bars — meaning "Snapshots Forbidden." INSPIRATIONAL ITEM: Mrs. Carrie Turner of Cleveland, O., is a camera fan who loves to travel. Her memory and her photo albums are filled with pictures of Mexico, Bermuda, Canada, New England and the national parts out west. Nothing unusual about that, of course. . .until I read that Mrs. Turner has been blind for 31 years.

Her sightseeing is done with her other senses. . .listening to people commenting on the scenes . . .hearing the sounds of nature or of the locale . . . feeling the architecture.

How does she take pictures? By pointing a simple box camera at the scene with the help of a guide or fellow sightseers. Why does she take pictures? "Why, to share my trips with my friends back home," she replies.

Mrs. Turner may not have the eyes but she certainly has the heart of a real camera fan.

Another State Dun Sent to Ex-Official

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes dunned Clarence McLeod of Cleveland, former member of the old Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission, again today to repay salary McLeod received for the first half of October.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled recently that the old three-member commission was abolished Oct. 1 by a new law enacted this year by the General Assembly creating a five-member commission.

McLeod and Roy E. Harmony of Sidney, members of the old commission, continued to serve until McElroy's decision Oct. 26, because all appointments to the new commission had not been made by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Penny Sue Hoover Is Bride Of Laurence R. Dietrich

MRS. LAURENCE DIETRICH

Miss Penny Sue Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn E. Hoover, Route 3, became the bride of Mr. Laurence R. Dietrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dietrich, W. Franklin St., at 11 a. m. Saturday, November 14, in a double ring ceremony in St. Joseph's Church. Rt. Rev. Msgr. George O. Mason officiated at the Nuptial High Mass.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of bouquet taffeta designed with a princess panel bodice highlighted by a sabrina neckline of reembroidered Alencon lace etched with iridescents and tiny seed pearls. Long sleeves tapered to graceful points over her hands.

Her voluminous skirt which featured appliqued panier sides was complimented by an airy butterfly bow and terminated in a flowing chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported French silk bridal illusion was caught to a Queen's crown of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marlene Dietrich, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of soft chiffon in turquoise styled with a portrait neckline and velvet bodice.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Gibbs, Miss Marilyn Gaines and Miss Judy Lamier. They were attired in ballerina length gowns of soft chiffon in candy pink styled with portrait necklines and velvet bodices.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore matching velvet headpieces with circular veils. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a beige silk paneled sheath dress with black assessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the groom was attired in a royal blue wool ensemble with matching accessories and her corsage was pink carnations.

Charles Dietrich, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were Forest Easterday Jr., Edward Dietrich, cousin of the groom, and James Hoover, brother of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Pickaway County Country Club. Assisting hostesses were Miss Pauline E. Roese, Mrs. William Dietrich, Mrs. Nolo Gulick and Mrs. Robert Bennett.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a brick-red wool tweed walking suit with black accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. McGinnis Wins Duck at Country Store

Mrs. Paul McGinnis, 464 E. Main St., was the lucky winner of the live duck given away at the annual Country Store held at St. Philip's Parish House yesterday.

Bird lovers will be happy to know that the fate of the bird will not be that of most of our plumed friends at this season of the year, but the lucky duck will take up residence at the farm of Paul McGinnis.

The bird sat as quietly as a milk glass hen on a nest 'midst the country atmosphere which pervaded the store all day. But it lsot its appetite as 200 jars of mincemeat and other specialty food items quickly disappeared from the food shelves.

Over 100 guests were served home style cooking from the country kitchen which held no room for a rocking chair.

Dozens of beautifully made aprons, kitchen style and dressy, were headed under someone's Christmas tree.

The women of the church wish to thank the public for their loyal and continuing support and would appreciate the return of any empty mincemeat jars.

Personals

David Hutzelman, sophomore at Kenyon College, Gambier, will spend Thanksgiving day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutzelman, 612 Guilford Road. Accompanying him will be four classmates, Abe DeMattos, Utica, N. Y.; Jack Wagner, Erie, Pa.; Jim Swaney, Monroe, Mich.; and Ted Waugh, Syracuse, N. Y.

Round lemon slices, to be served with fish, look particularly attractive if you sprinkle them with paprika and perch a tiny sprig of parsley in the center of each. If you want to be really fancy, notch the edges before garnishing.

'Ask Grandmother', Theme Of Monday Club Meeting

A receiving line dressed in garments of yester years greeted Monday Club members as they arrived for the evening program Monday in the Memorial Hall.

At the front of the room was a member wearing a sun bonnet and apron, stirring apple butter in a huge brass kettle. Another member was dressed in an old house dress and apron mixing bread in the old bread trough and churning butter in an old stone churn.

One of the old costumes was a man's suit which belonged to Felix Renick of Pickaway County. He wore it to the Ohio Legislature in 1851-52. The coat was partly machine stitched but the trousers were hand sewn and lined.

Also there were linen sheets, pillow cases from the Revolution days and women's stockings and mittens from the Civil War days.

The large collection of clothing was from the home of Hartford and Dhel Renick, Route 3, which dated back to the 1860's.

Another display belonging to Mrs. Walter Kindler was discussed by Mrs. James Carr. The display included valentines, Christmas cards, gold pen, old slate and pencil (1863), pewter glove fastener, crystal and sliver vinaigrette, lard (oil) lamps, snuffers and swift and fluting iron.

Following the business session conducted by Mrs. Harold Anderson, the program chairman, Mrs. Homer Reber introduced Mrs. Frank Morrison. Mrs. Morrison chose for her topic "Ask Grandmother—She Knows".

The terrific struggle of pioneer life left little time for recreation. Yet human nature existed even on at least a minimum of relaxation for body and mind—so with characteristic ingenuity, they chose some form of necessary work, sugar coated it and made themselves believe it was fun.

The house and barn raising, the husking bee, the quilting party, the apple bee and the spelling bee are examples.

The old-time apple-cutting and apple butter making were followed by a "Froic" where the old and young made merry. The floor was cleared, and when after midnight the fiddler called the "Virginia Reel". Such shouting, such laughter, such clatter of hilarious feet upon the sanded puncheon floor startled the screech-owl out of doors and waked the baby from its sweet slumber in the bread trough.

Few pioneer women in Ohio had any idea of the science of dietetics—a balanced ration. They brought to the table such foods as was available or was liked by their men folks.

An excess of sweets in maple sugar time, of heavy pastry and of starches, unrelieved by sufficient fresh fruits and vegetables left the average digestion in a lamentable condition by springtime.

This brought about the annual dosing with various evil tasting concoctions that were supposed to clear the blood.

Oldsters still shudder at the thought of hop tea and the dreaded mixture of sulphur and molasses which was poured down many a resisting throat in childhood.

The industrial revolution was a blessing to the over-worked housewife. It relieved her of a large part of the endless round of duties that wore out the pioneer women so pathetically and fatally that countless numbers of them died in early life.

A census of the old cemeteries, shows that a large proportion of the men lie peacefully sleeping beside a series of two or more wives who were in succession helpmates to those husbands in the desperate and gruelling struggle to transfrom the Ohio wilderness into the wealthy state which we enjoy today.

To continue in a lighter vein—what if the rustic went clad in home spun? What if silken gowns were unknown to the country girls in gingham and linen, who milked cows and churned the cream of other days? The boys went a-courting all the same, and the damsels in linsey were angels as white as cream and as full of sweetness as young maples in sugar-making time.

The evenings' program was concluded by the selection, "Over the River and Through the Woods" arranged by Fred Waring and presented by the Monday Club Chorus. Mrs. James Moffit directed and the group was accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Huston.

Dr. F. Moore Is Speaker

The Practical Nurses Association held its meeting Friday in the guild room of Berger Hospital.

Mrs. Francile Peters presided at the meeting. Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Frank Moore. He chose for his subject, "Carnary Thronbosis and the Nursing procedure and Treatment".

A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held December 18 in the guild room of Berger Hospital.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Myrtle Carter.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Be Sure To Count Blessings

If I were to set down all the things for which I have to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day, I could fill this page. But I would like to share with you a few unpublished letters from readers. And for these I am truly thankful.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you never hear from people to whom you have given advice, but here is one who wants you to know that in March, 1958 I wrote to you and asked you how to get over a love affair that was destroying me. (He was a married man.) You wrote me two pages of the best advice I have ever had. I carried your letter around and read it until it was so worn out I had to recopy it. Well, I took your advice, Abby, and I know you'll be pleased to learn that I am going to be married on Christmas Day to the most wonderful man in the world. Thank you for opening my eyes.

GLORIA X (Los Angeles, Calif.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I want to thank you for recommending ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in your column. We are both alcoholics. I have been dry for four years and my husband for six. I am sure you have edcated many people who formerly felt that alcoholics were to be punished and cursed. On behalf of all of us who are fighting this battle, please accept our thanks for your understanding.

B. AND J. (Houston, Texas)

DEAR ABBY: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for telling me that there was a place like the Florence Crittenon Home for unwed mohers in Denver. You will never know how close I came to taking my life the day your letter arrived.

"JUST IN TIME" (Denver, Colo.)

DEAR ABBY: If you never write another line you will have earned you place in heaven for your answer to "FIFTEEN." The boy in the case was my son. Your advice, "Tell your parents. They are your best friends and the only ones who can help you" gave him the courage to talk to his Dad. Bless you, Dear Abby. May you live to be 100.

MRS. J.J.C. (Oklahoma City)

DEAR ABBY: Judy had a baby boy this morning and she asked me to write to you and give you the news first because you are the one who sent her here. She sends her love and says she will never forget you.

ANNA (Cleveland O.)

DEAR ABBY: I wrote you a five-page letter, Abby, but you'll never see it because I tore it up. But it will probably give you a lot of satisfaction to know that I found the answer to my problem myself just by writing it out. I hope ohers will do what I did. It is a lot cheaper than psychiatry and the principle is the same

W. C. (WASHINGTON, D. C.)

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. Marion Carcioppolo was not the only one who cut out the letter to CANNOT BE CONSOLED and hung it it her kitchen. We lost a wonderful son in World War Two. A mother never gets over a loss like this. But, Abby, that letter in your column has also helped me to pray harder and to cry less. Thought you'd like to know.

MRS. H. L. (Philadelphia)

DEAR ABBY: My girlfriend and I are writing to tell you that a letter in your column giving both sides of the question to whether an unwed mother should put her baby up for adoption or keep it helped us to make up our minds.

I am keeping my baby and she is giving hers up. You are so right, Abby. Each case is different. We remember you in our prayers every night.

BLONDE (Chicago, ILL.(

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "TOO LATE" from the woman who was "too busy" to go to visit her poor gray-haired parents hit home with me. Abby. I was also "TOO BUSY" to give my elderly parents the attention they deserved, but thank God I am not too late. You woke me up.

"NOT TOO LATE" (Pa.)

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Meeting Changed To Wednesday

Berger Hospital Guild No. 37 will hold its meeting Wednesday instead of tonight as previously planned.

Ohio Quietly Launches One of Top Penal Programs in Entire Nation

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A few days ago, 28 inmates of Mansfield Reformatory were transferred to the Lebanon Honor Farm, Ohio Penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis stepped out and Beryle Sacks succeeded him.

On their faces, those little news items would appear to be a part of the routine operation of Ohio's big prison system.

But, add them up and they mark the dawn of one of the nation's most modern penal programs.

"Now we can begin to see the light," says M. C. Koblentz, Ohio's correction commissioner and head man of the third largest state prison system in the nation. Ohio has 11,500 persons in custody in its correctional institutions.

Transfer of the 28 Mansfield Reformatory inmates to Lebanon was no routine move. They are the first of a mass movement of 1,500 Mansfield inmates, who in another 18 months, will occupy the Lebanon Correctional Institution, now a-building.

And "Big Red" Alvis, the warden who probably has brightened more dark corners of the vast antiquated Ohio Penitentiary with his enlightened program than any warden in history, will set up shop in a few days as the first superintendent at Lebanon.

Events of the last few days will set off a chain reaction which, eventually, will result in the greatest reshuffling program Ohio's prison system ever has known.

The aim of the big brains-plus-bricks program — which probably will cost Ohio about 50 million dollars over the course of a decade — is quite simple:

To try to make better men of the 98 per cent of Ohio's prison inmates who will, in the course of years, be released to rejoin society.

When the reshuffling is finished, the state will have virtually two prison systems for men—one for northern Ohio and the other for the southern half of the state.

Mansfield Reformatory, built in 1896, will be converted into a maximum - security prison for about 1,800 adult men. The northern Ohio system also will include the Marion Correctional Institution, completed in 1955, and a similar institution at a site yet to be seleced in north-central Ohio. Boh Marion and the north-central institution will have capacities of 1,500. Both are intended for younger inmates.

In the process of converting Mansfield to a penitentiary, about half its population will be transferred to the new Lebanon Correctional Institution. The other half will go to the north-central about 1964, according to present plans.

Lebanon, together with London Prison Farm and Ohio Penitentiary, will form the southern half of the prison system. As soon as the population of Ohio Penitentiary can be reduced to about 2,500 (its theoretical capacity) penologists hope for a replacement—outside downtown Columbus—of the giant prison which now is nearly 90 years old.

More than 3,800 men are housed behind the high grey walls of the penitentiary less than a mile from the state capitol.

In addition to the north-south division of he prison system, present plans call for the transfer of the facilities of the Lima State Hospital to the Correcion Division. I will be used as a psychiatric center for about 1,300 prison inmates and as a research and training center.

What will the prison of the future look alike? And what will be the life of an inmate?

The answers to these and many more questions developed in an informal discussion in the warden's office at Ohio Penitentiary shortly after Sacks took over. Alvis and Koblentz were there to help with Sacks' briefing.

"The days of the cramped, four-man cell are passing," said Koblentz, "And the sooner the better. Take a look at the Marion Correctional Institution where we have 400 one-man cells and you begin to get the picture. Visit Lebanon next year and you will get the whole story—1,500 one - man cells and no dormitories.

"The chances of a man getting himself straightened out are far better, we have found, if he can have some privacy, having his private cell gives a man a chance to study—to think. At Lebanon, an inmate will be able to earn the right to go to class in the evenings if he wishes or to go to the library. He'll have a hall pass just like a high school student.

"Until the lights-out hour, the cell doors will be unlocked.

"You know," the commissioner added, "we have changed many of our ideas about security. The main reason that, until recently, there had been no prison construction in Ohio for 30 years is that it was too expensive. We thought the walls between cells had to be this thick."

Koblentz held his hands about two feet apart.

"Now we're building them much thinner. If an inmate knocks a hole in the wall and crawls through, so what? He's still in a cell, isn't he?

"We've come to the conclusion that security lies in the cellblock, at the gate and at the guard towers."

Question: Warden Alvis, you have been at Ohio Penitentiary 12 years. What are the changes in prison life in those years? What, primarily, have you been trying to do?

"Most of all, we have been trying to make sure every man has a chance to keep his self respect, to remain a man.

"If we know a man's first name, we try to use it. We don't shave their heads anymore; we even allow sideburns about a half inch long."

Q. What have been the results of this self-respect emphasis?

"For one thing, many of those inmates whose chief problem was alcohol are making good records on the outside. Those who keep their self respect are likely to keep their family ties more closely knit. And they develop better work habits."

Q. Ohio used to give a released inmate a poorly fitting suit and $5 and dump him out here on the front steps. Has that changed?

"Things have changed a lot in that respect," Alvis replied. "Not only the suits and the amount of money, but many other things.

"We, the psychiatrists, the social workers and the Bureau of Probation and Parole have worked hard on our pre-release program.

"Six to eight weeks before a man has completed his sentence or goes out on parole, he is started on an intensive course to prepare him for re-entry into society.

"We have the money for even a better program. We just can't find enough qualified people.

"But even with the people we have available, we have been able to do this: No man leaves this place without the guarantee of a job and in every case where it is possible, his family is prepared in advance for his return."

Q. To be worthwhile, such program must have a payoff. In other words, has the pre-release or planned - parole program resulted in any significant drop in the number of former inmates who return here in a couple of months or years?

Koblentz interrupted with a smile: "In the last year, even though we had 25 per cent more paroles than in the previous year, the rate of parolees returning to the penitentiary has dropped 21 per cent. That's the payoff."

Q. Mr. Sacks, no doubt you have some fresh ideas in mind for the operation of the penitentiary. Where do we go from here?

"Frankly, the new warden replied, "I do have a few ideas, but first of all I want to learn all there is to learn about the operation. It is a fine, forward-looking operation as it stands—without any changes. As I learn, I may find the ideas I have are no good or should be modified. At least, I'd rather not talk about them now."

Q. With the prison system prospects being what they are, how do you feel about the possibility of presiding over the final rites for this institution (Ohio Penitentiary)?

Sacks: "Great! I hope to do just that, unless I'm fired. And if I can't do the job, I should be fired."

Alvis: "Do you know, Mr. Sacks, there are only two wardens in the history of this institution who have not been fired?"

Sacks: "Is that right? Who were they?"

Alvis: "You and me."

Give 'Em Money, Honey

One gift that's always sure to hit the spot is plain old money.

People who get gray hairs worrying over the Christmas gift list would save time and trouble by simply sending a check and letting the recipient decide how to use it.

There are new and imaginative ways to send a gift of money this year. Banks throughout the country now have special - occasion gift checks, available at almost any bank. These may be enclosed with your regular Christmas card or in a seasonal envelope, also supplied by the bank.

Another bright idea is to open a bank account in a friend's name, and send the passbook in a gift envelope. This is especially good for small fry.

For a grown-up you could open a checking account and send a checkbook with his name and address imprinted on each check. Just go to his bank to place the order.

Or, as an off-beat gift, pay a year's rent on a safe deposit box for a friend who is careless about his valuable papers.

Great idea, money. Everybody appreciates it.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Kevin Miller, 10, earned $1.80 by doing odd jobs.

The money could go toward a turkey for Thanksgiving, which his mother had said they could not afford, or for a veterinarian's fee for treating Kevin's injured dog, struck by an auto Monday.

Kevin chose the dog.

Nation's Chemical Industry Sees Competition Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition from within and from without the chemical industry is growing almost as fast as the industry itself.

The Manufacturing Chemists' Assn., meeting here Tuesday, notes that chemical companies produce more than 10,000 products in some 12,500 plants.

The competition can be fierce between different companies producing the same products. It can be even tougher between different products out for the same markets.

There is also competition between changing processes for making products, between raw materials, and finally between the all-out chemical companies and outsiders with a chemical as a side product. And these last sometimes grow into full blown chemical divisions.

The association also notes that foreign competition is gaining. And part of Tuesday's session will concentrate on international relations.

The association counts 230 domestic producers competing for the markets in plastics materials, 84 for sulfuric acid, 7 for photo chemicals, 9 for explosives 54 for dyes, 1,429 for paints, and 90 for oxygen.

Stelworker Ready To Strike Again

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "Even if it means eating mush until it comes out of my ears," said one steelworker, "I'm ready to go back on strike when the injunction expires in January."

His comment was typical of the attitude of some of the 5,900 production employes at the U. S. Steel Corporation's huge Fairless Works.

The men will be paid Wednesday for the first time since July, when the long steel strike began. Those few who returned to work on Nov. 7, right after the Taft-Hartley injunction was issued will be paid for eight days, through Nov. 14. The rest will be paid for four, five or six days.

Fatal Hillsboro Fire Is Ruled Accidental

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Three men inspecting a farm field found a half-starved dog tied to a tree Monday and nearby discovered the burned body of the dog's master, James M. White, 34. White had been missing from his home in southern Highland County since Nov. 13. Dr. W. M. Hoyt, deputy county coroner, ruled White died accidentally of burns suffered when his clothes ignited from a fire White had built.

Actor Yul Brynner was born in Vladivostok, Siberia.

Christmas Card Use Universal

There's quite a story behind those Chrismas cards you'll send and receive this year.

For a custom that is so well-established, that of exchanging yuletide greetings, is amazingly new—just over a century old—for it was in 1843 that the first Christmas card was published in England.

Since then,the sending of Christmas cards has become almost universal, although in some lands greetings are sent on New Year's Day instead of Dec. 25

Sir Henry Cole, an Englishman, created the first Christmas card in 1843. Cole had 1,000 cards designed with the greeting, "A Merry Chrismas and a Happy New Year to You."

The card shows friendly family party in progress; the olders with raised wine glasses in a toast to the person receiving the card. Although Cole was hailed for his idea in inventing the Chrismas card, and eventually was knighted, his greeting met with severe criticism because it showed children at the same table with the wine drinkers.

Another early Christmas card was designed by William Maw Egley of England, in 1848, also showing people in seasonal activities. Included are a family dinner in an elaborate dining hall, a young lady writing a Christmas letter, young man reading, and other persons dancing, skating and feeding the needy.

* * *

EARLY PUBLISHERS, meeting demands of the time,often included mistletoe decorations and sprigs on their cards. Marcus Ward and Co. of London depicted what apparently was a young rover hastening towards the lady of his fancy, holding mistletoe on high. "Ye Mistletoe Bough," said the card of the 1860s, "Wishing You a Merry Christmas."

The, first cards were unfolded pasteboards printed in color. Later, in the 1850s and 1860s, cards were die-stamped with designs combining ornaments and lettering. Larger cards became more popular in the 1870s, a study of the antique collection discloses.

"Father Chrismas," the English equivalent of Santa Claus, early became a favorite decoration for Christmas cards. Flowers especially the red rose and poinsettias, Holly, birds and animals were also widely used, possibly because of the brilliant coloring they offered. The traditional Chrismas colors—red and green—were widely used from the start.

Ships, trains and balloons became popular Christmas card decorations in the 1880s; automobiles appeared as early as 1903. A few years later the airplane was in vogue, continuing in popularity until the 1920s.

There were few religious scenes on early cards. They were not widely used until Christmas cards were printed in America by Louis Prang, who is credited with being "the father of the American Christmas card."

He began making Chrismas cards in Boston in 1875, and sponsored art competitions to obtain his card designs. Although Prang gave up Chrismas cards in the 1890s, he is credited with establishing in America the joy of sending and receiving Chrismas greetings.

After Prang's pioneering efforts, Chrismas "post cards" imported from Europe and England came into wide usage here. Hundreds of designs, from tranquil summer scenes to religious themes, were employed. The post cards started about 1895 and were most popular from 1900 to 1910.

Chrismas cards, much as they are known today, began replacing the post card around 1915. Yuletide greeting of the 1920s were heavily sentimental.

* * *

BY 1931 Christmas greetings more closely resembled the cards of today. By 1934, Chrismas cards were being created for individuals, such as mother, wife, sweetheart and for children. Such special caption cards are in great demand today, along with cards even for family doctors, milkman and the paper boy.

Cartoons by Walt Disney and poems by the late Edgar A. Guest made there debut on Chrismas cards in the 1930s as cards became more intricate with attachments and simple "mechanics."

The years of World War II brought patriotic cards, popular for servicemen overseas. Old Glory, eagles, warplanes and military insignia were depicted. Significantly, perhaps, cards with religious themes also were more popular in wartime.

In recent years, the works of world-famed personalities, including such artists as Sir Winston Churchill and Norman Rockwell and such writers as Ogden Nash and Norman Vincent Peale have proved popular as yuletide greetings.

Beauty of design, elegant styling the publics increased demand for greater quality and good taste—are dominant characteristics of the cards Americans will exchange this Chrismas.

Lawyer Guild Aide Indicted by Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martin Popper, 50, a New York attorney and secretary of the National Lawyers Guild, today was indicted on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was a Communist.

Former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell served notice on the National Lawyers Guild in 1953 that he intended to put it on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Ohio Temperance Forces Gird For Onslaught against Liquor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's temperance forces are girding for a new onslaught against the liquor traffic. The drive through the state's churches has total abstinence as its goal.

The Ohio Temperance League's board of trustees, at its annual meeting Monday, issued a lengthy anti-liquor pronouncement. It asserts the league stands ready to cooperate with churches and individuals in carrying out a complete program of promotion, education and legislation.

"Surely," the pronouncement asserts, "an informed Christian church will arise to meet this issue."

Its resolution declares that the Temperance League:

"Voices its opposition to the present policy of the Ohio Liquor Department in promoting the sale of liquor by the maintenance of 'de luxe stores,' flamboyant presentation of the products, bargain sales and other methods designed to promte the sale of intoxicating liquors. Such means are contrary to the purpose of a state monopoly system and should be terminated.

"Notes the failure of the Liquor Board to uphold the rights of churches and schools under the so-called '500-foot law' and joins with the Parent-Teacher Assn. in recommending legislation be prepared to prohibit establishment of liquor outlets within 500 feet of churches, schools, libraries and public playgrounds, and seek its enactment at the next session of the Legislature.

"Recognizes with pride and joy and does approve and commend the action of the Temple of Good Will in banning the sale of liquor at the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus."

Steelworkers Ratify Ashtabula Contract

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — A two-year contract was ratified by United Steelworkers Local 381 Monday night, ending a 134-day strike of 1,020 hourly workers at Union Carbide Metals Co. Ninecent hourly pay raises were provided for this year, with a wage reopener next July 13. A cost-of-living escalator clause was dropped, but 17 cents an hour received under such a clause in the previous contract was added to base pay. Provision was made for four-week vacations after 20 years instead of 25.

Knit Caps Good Present For Christmas

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The most popular Mrs. Santa is the one who gives personal Christmas presents to the important people on her list — gifts made especially for someone dear or selected with individual attention. High on the list are hand-knit garments, planned with the needs and tastes of the recipient in mind.

There are many small accessories quick and easy to knit, which will delight everyone on the gift list. These include knit ties or socks for men, new bulky sweaters or scarfs for teenagers, hoods and mittens for children.

A bright idea for the knitting fan is a mother - daughter set of snug helmets with the tie scarfs for blustery winter winds. Done in bulky yarn with bit needles in simple ribbed stitch, with seed stitch border, they can be made in a few hours. An added advantage is the new wash-and-wear yarn which needs no blocking.

For free instructions for making these helmets, send stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Ann Bucilla, 230 Fifth Ave., New York 1, N. Y.

Mandarin Chinese is the most widely used language in the world. It is spoken by about 444 million people.

It's My Custom To Shop All Year, Says Mrs. F.D.R.

She is Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

"It has long been my custom to shop for Christmas presents throughout the entire year," she wrote in her recent book, "On My Own." Wherever I may be in January or June or November I always seem to be picking up some small gift that I think might please a member of the family or a friend on the following Dec. 25."

One reason for this custom is Mrs. Roosevelt's deep affection for the Christmas season.

"Christmas means a great deal to Mrs. Roosevelt," says Miss Maureen Corr, her secretary. "She loves Christmas and she loves giving."

• • •

THE FORMER First Lady always goes home to Hyde Park, N. Y., for Christmas. She likes to have as many of her children and grandchildren and great - grandchildren with her as possible.

But she also spends much of her time during the season attending parties for children less fortunate than her own.

"Her Christmases are necessarily lavish because her family is so large," say Miss Corr. There are the five children, 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. She also gives to many others, "easily in the hundreds," her secretary says.

Mrs. Roosevelt has a Christmas book in which she keeps a list of what she has given to friends and relatives during the years. In this way she avoids duplications.

"The black book is quite thick," says Miss Corr.

In the book besides the children are such persons as Prime Minister Nehru of India former President and Mrs. Harry Truman, Queen Elizabeth a New York state trooper, and a White House telephone operator.

A fast shopper, Mrs. Roosevelt says she can buy a dozen or more presents during an hour's shopping in a department store. She also does quite a bit of shopping on her many trips abroad.

This was true early this year when she visited London, Paris, Israel and Iran.

"She has a special Christmas closet at Hyde Park where she stores the gifts," Miss Corr says.

As the end of the year approaches, the closet becomes quite crowded.

Ceramic Tile Sales Boom; Material No Longer Luxury

NEW YORK (AP)—The postwar building spree has given an old timer its biggest sales boom.

Use of ceramic tile goes back thousands of years. But in just the last 10, new techniques and materials have brought it out of the luxury class. This and the postwar rush of building have boosted sales in the United States by 143 per cent since 1949.

The Tile Council of America says costs of production and installation have been cut about 20 per cent since the war.

The council says it represents 27 manufactursrs turning out more than 90 per cent of domestic-made ceramic floor and wall tile. It says many of the new techniques and materials were developed at its own research center at Princeton, N.J.

Department of Commerce construction figures put the 1947-49 average annual production of ceramic tile at 104,800,000 square feet, and output in the 12 months ending June 30, 1959, at 235,956,000 square feet.

The council's figures show 99,146,000 square feet turned out 10 years ago. It estimates this year's production will reach 241 million square feet. It says facilities have been expanded to bring present production capacity to about 375 million square feet a year.

Like many other manufacturers, the tile makers are seeing their newly found bonanza threatened by foreign invaders. The volume of imported tile is rising fast. And the council says this year's tide of foreign ceramic building materials may capture 20 per cent of the American market.

The council, like similar industry groups, bewails the "exploitation of low-paid labor which permits foreign producers" to undersell Americans.

At the end of the war, domestic tile manufacturers offered about 30 different colors. Today they show more than 200. In the postwar years a trend toward diversity in size, shape and texture, offering the architect a large number of combinations, also has boosted use.

Increased production, along with the less costly materials and processes, helped bring the price down within reach of more residential and commercial building budgets. The tile salesmen also make much of its fairly cheap maintenance, which has a dollar and cents appeal to the commercial building operator.

The record high temperature recorded in the United States is 134 degrees noted in Death Valley, Calif., in 1913.

10 Local Stores In Charge Service

Ten local stores have banded together to provide a charge account service to local customers. The arrangement will begin operation Friday.

Called "Shoppers Charge Service", the operation will allow customers to charge merchandise at all 10 stores and receive but one monthly bill.

Teamed together in the service are Beaver Studio, Block's Economy Shoe Store, L. M. Butch Co., Circleville Hardware, Circleville Rexall, Miller - Jones Shoes, Moore's Store and Rothman's Department Store.

Circleville is the first small town in Ohio to try the new cooperative charge account service. It operates in most of Ohio's larger cities.

The service has its offices in Columbus. However, bills may be paid here at the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. or at the local member stores.

Customers will be able to make application for the charge account service at any of the 10 local stores starting Friday. If the application is approved, the customer will receive a charge - plate, to be used at any or all of the stores here. The stores will be identified by an emblem.

• • •

TWO TYPES of accounts are available to customers. One is a 30-day charge account, free to the customer. The other is called a Flexible Charge Account. The customer is to pay one-fifth of his total bill each month. There is no charge for the first month or any month in which the bill is paid in full. The remaining months, the customer will be charged 1½ per cent of the unpaid balance.

Customers will receive a monthly bill, with original sales slips from all stores where he made purchases during the month.

Fireside Fun In Comeback

AP Newsfeatures

Family fun is in style again. Maybe it's the effect of television. Maybe it's just the swing of the pendulum. Whatever the reason, the Gay Nineties custom of parlor games is back again full force.

The new game crop for this Christmas is long on games intended for the whole family rather than just the children. Competitive interest is scaled to fit the abilities and interests of both parents and small fry.

Some are based on popular television show formats. And the popularity of the game endures even after the TV show is off the air. After all, nobody is going to accuse a family circle of "rigging" a quiz game.

One new game, a top hit throughout the country, is based on concentration and memory. It's a streamlined new version of rebus puzzle solving, a favorite family game in great-grandmother's day. An ingenious rollomatic puzzle changer, providing 30 feet of rebus wit challengers gives an up-to-the minute touch. Players compete for fabulous make-believe prizes such as mink coats, diamonds and cars, represented by pictures.

Other currently popular games are based on Wild West adventures, often tied in with a television show cast. Some of these Western thrillers include Restless Gun, Wells Fargo, The Rifleman, Cheyenne and Sergeant Preston.

Still another revival of family games of long ago is the current popularity of mazes. The object is to roll a small ball from one side, in and out of an intricate maze, to the other side of a clear plastic box.

Clear plastic score cards give another modern touch to versions of old favorites. A wipe-off target game, for example, bases play on tracking down missiles and provides each player with a radar screen.

Andorra, a 1190-square mile republic in the Pyrenees Mountains, has been a sovereign nation since the year 1278.

Disc Jockeys Due To Face Federal Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Clark and Alan Freed, disc jockeys, face investigation shortly by congressional probers, it was reported unofficially today.

Newspapers here said the inquiry was being handled by the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight—the same group which conducted the recent investigation of rigged television quiz shows.

The New York Journal-American quoted sources close to the subcommittee as saying both are "being cooperative."

It said the subcommittee will study accounts and records of the two as "the opening step in a study of the financial affairs of big-name disc jockeys throughout the country."

The inquiry is to determine whether such persons in the entertainment professional have refor plugging specific records on their radio and television shows. Both Clark and Freed have denied any improprieties.

The New York Post said Clark has told friends he has been called to testify in Washington the week of Dec. 7.

Pennsylvania State University's summer school has grown from 146 students to more than 7,000 in 50 years.

Traffic Offender Appears in Court

Larry Speakman, 15, of 229 Town St., Monday in Pickaway County Juvenile Court was fined $10 and costs for a traffic offense.

Speakman was cited by State Highway Patrolman James L. Cooper for operating a motor bicycle without a valid operator's permit and having no lights on the vehicle.

His fine was suspended by presiding Judge Guy G. Cline.

What's for Wife? Give Her Clothes

One sure-fire tip for uncertain Santas is: give her something she can wear.

This year any girl on the Christmas list would love the new fur accessories that are all over the place — a handbag, a hat, a scarf or a mutt in any pelt, from mink to leopard. The lavish Santa will make it a set—handbag or hat and matching scarf.

The fur - trimmed cashmere sweater is another five-star feminine gift. This year a black cashmere cardiga with black fox collar would ring the bell, or a beige sweater with matching blonde mink collar, or a green one trimmed with leopard. Collars are detachable, to be worn with other outfits.

All men know that diamonds are a girl's best friend. And if diamonds are beyond the budget, there's plenty of good costume jewelry around that looks like real. Multi-strand necklaces and bracelets in colors to match a costume are bound to be a success.

College girls, of course, all want scarab bracelets and gold circle pins to wear on a shirt collar. Scarab earrings to match the bracelet make life complete.

• • •

NO HIGH school or college girl ever has enough sweaters so Santa is free to shoot the works here. Anything from high-priced cashmere to budget orlon or bulky wool will bring squeals of joy from the younger set.

Gay house coats in wool, orlon or quilted cotton will please most any woman, as will strictly feminine lingerie in sheer nylon tricot, vivid colors preferred, such as tangerine, red or even bright blue.

And of course, the really timid Santa always is safe with a dozen pairs of nylons.

Mankind has been smelting tin since at least 3500 B. C.

School Subsidy Funds Going Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most of the 38¼ million dollars being distributed this week to educational systems throughout Ohio will go for public school subsidies, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported Monday.

The rest will go to teacher and school employe retirement systems and state universities.

City, exempted village and local school districts will receive more than 36 million dolars. About 17 millions will go to local districts under county boards of education.

Bowling Green, Kent State, Miami, Ohio University and Ohio State—all state universities — will share $25,842 for teacher training purposes with nearly half going to Kent State.

Cincinnati's Budget Proposal Shows Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—City Manager C. A. Harrell has recommended the city spend $62,176,096 in 1960, or about four millions more than 1959 appropriations. In his budget proposals Tuesday, Harrell said he thinks city workers should get a 4½ per cent general wage increase but there is not enough money expected for this. He recommended a 3 per cent increase.

U of C To Build New Speedometer for Navy

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. Navy has commissioned the University of Cincinnati to make a device that measures absolute velocity—or rate of speed—of any moving object with respect to Earth. The university announced the $100,000 grant for the research project today. The device must apply to all movement of any vehicle in water, on water, on land or in space.

Cheryl Martin To Attend National 4-H Dairy Meeting

Cheryl Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Martin, Route 2, Williamsport, will be attending the National 4-H Dairy Conference December 3-6 in Chicago. Miss Martin won this trip by being the state winner with her demonstration, "Producing Quality Milk".

CHERYL MARTIN

The quality of the demonstration is only part of the selection of out of state winners, according to Clarence J. Cunningham, Pickaway County Extension Agent, 4-H. Miss Martin was also selected because of her outstanding 4-H club record as well as participation in school and community activities.

During her seven years as a 4-H club member, Cheryl has completed 16 projects on which she has received all A grades. She has completed projects in beef, dairy, swine, and Junior Leadership. Miss Martin has served as health and safety leaders of her club and is a past president. She is currently treasurer of the County 4-H Jr. Leadership Club.

In addition to her activities as a member of the Perry Junior Livestock 4-H Club, she has participated in many school and church activities. She is a sophomore at Atlanta High School.

MISS MARTIN will be one of 10 youths from Ohio who will participate in the activities of the National 4-H Dairy Conference. While in Chicago the delegates will attend the International Dairy Show, have special educational features on dairy, tour the city of Chicago, and visit special points of interest such as the Museum of Science and Industry.

Advisors of Miss Martin's local 4-H club are Hoyt Martin, Harley Evans and Harold Skinner. Her trip is sponsored by the Ohio Dairy Products Assn.

DEFENDS PAYOLA — Fired by Detroit radio station WJBK after admitting he nearly doubled his $8,000 with payola, disc jockey Tom Clay defended the payola system as "part of the business" and "no more wrong than a small boy taking an apple to his teacher." He told newsmen it was not unusual for a Deejay to be offered 25 per cent of a recording company or 50 per cent of a song to play a record on the air.

Santa Will Like He-Sweaters

AP Newsfeatures

Husky sweaters for he-men are at the top of old St. Nick's suggestion list this year.

There's a rash of rugged, colorful sweaters in men's shops this winter, in the kind of bulky knits and easy styles that outdoor men prefer. Blanket plaids in brushed yarns are particularly in demand, available in both coat and pullover styles, with shawl collars, boat or V-necks.

The new sweaters go in for rich colors, suddenly in demand by even conservative males. Among the most popular are; dubonnet, blue, olive green, cognac, charcoal, heather, antique gold and of course black and white.

Cable knits in solid colors are right for men of all ages, and are available in a variety of styles.

If you're buying a sweater for the man in your life this Christmas, be sure to get it big enough. To be safe, buy a size larger than his suit size, as it's important for these new husky sweaters to be roomy. Don't be afraid of color. Even if he always has stuck to black or beige, this year he'll probably go for a cognac and black combination, olive green or dubonnet. These colors look new and thoroughly masculine.

Although bulky, the new sweaters are light in weight, thanks to new developments in yarns. They provide warmth without weight for active men, and are ideal for the hunter, the fisherman, the golfer and the country weekender.

Ohio Anxious About Roads

Federal Agency Due To Get State Prod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Department officials got ready today to ask the 35½-million dollar question.

They plan to confer as soon as possible with representatives of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The bureau is carefully controlling the federal dollars that go toward building a 41,000-mile Interstate road network which is supposed to connect the nation's major cities in the mid-1970s. The federal government pays 90 per cent.

Ohio is champing at the bit, hoping to keep its part of the Interstate program going full speed.

Three more contract lettings are scheduled his year—Dec. 1, 8 and 15. The department wants to include the 35½ million dollars worth of Interstate projects in those three if the bureau will allow.

In the 13 contract-lettings up to today, almost 106 million dollars worth of contracts have been execued. Another 87 million dollars worth, set up before the first of the year, have been executed now that such delays as right of way acquisition, altering utilities and other hold-ups have been cleared away.

Two Interstate projects were included in today's bid opening. They are:

Hancock County—To build an extension of County Road 300 as a service road near the U.S. 224 interchange with Interstate 75 west of Findlay. Apparent low bidder E. J. Meyer & Sons Inc. of Ottawa, $15,938. State estimate $23,700.

Licking and Muskingum counties—Furnish and put up traffic signs along the 23-mile Hebron bypass stretch of U.S. 40. Apparent low bidder General Outdoor Advertising Co. of Chicago, $99,262. State estimate $184,600.

Other projects:

Greene and Warren counties — Convert five miles of U.S. 42 to four-lane divided highway between Waynesville and Spring Valley. Apparent low bidder V. N. Holderman & Sons Co. of Columbus, $2,243,775. State estimate $3,591,400.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS IS IN THE CARDS—Christmas, 1959, will be packed full of good things. It's in the cards, says the Greeting Card association, New York City, pointing out there are more than 40,000 different Christmas card designs to choose from this year. Among the most popular, according to a survey, are Santa Claus, floral designs, winter scenes, religious and "Season's Greetings." Most of them have sparkling tinsel for eye-catching effects. (Central Press)

Mother's Orders Alter Gunplay

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Parental discipline and the television western influence clashed headon yesterday. The result was—excuse the expression—a draw.

An after-school game of cowboy (a good man-bad man variety) was being acted out by a pair of neighborhood six-year-olds.

The dialogue:

Good cowboy: "Bang! You're dead. Fall down!"

Bad cowboy: "I can't fall down. My mother doesn't allow me to lie on the ground!"

Good cowboy: "Then close your eyes and lean up against the garage."

Bottled Gas Heater Brings U.S. Warning

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service has issued an urgent warning against a kind of bottled gas heater used in hunting and camping trailers. Apparently it has caused eight deaths in Michigan, officials said.

The heaters are called "Thrum Heaters," the health service said Friday, and may bear the model number "3M" or "8MNS." It said a faulty design results in a quick buildup of lethal carbon monoxide in the small trailers in which they are used.

AP Guesspert Picks Army to Sink Navy '11'

Texas Is Given Nod; Cincinnati Favored Over Miami Thursday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's turkey time, when some college football teams gobble up the opposition. We hope to give thanks for a good score this week.

Army over Navy: Each team needs a victory here to salvage a dismal season. The Cadets have the better attack and should prove it Saturday.

Texas over Texas A&M: How can you beat the Longhorns out of the Cotton Bowl when Bobby Lackey directs the scoring machine and guard Bob Harwerth keeps the opposition in check. They play this one Thursday.

Southern California over Notre Dame: No matter how cold it gets in South Bend on Saturday, the Trojans will get up a head of steam.

Georgia over Georgia Tech: This is the best Georgia team since the Sinkwich-Trippi era. It is a Saturday game.

Duke over North Carolina: Your Thursday TV tidbit. Two teams with disappointing records take it out on each other.

Taking a final, hurried romp over the chalklines:

THURSDAY

Colgate over Brown, Cincinnati over Miami of Ohio, Wyoming over Denver, Penn over Cornell, Richmond over William & Mary, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Wichita over Tulsa, Washington State over Houston.

SATURDAY

East: Boston College over Holy Cross.

South: Auburn over Alabama, Florida over Miami, Clemson over Furman, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Florida State over Tampa, Tennessee over Vanderbilt, South Carolina over Wake Forest.

Midwest: Air Force over Colorado Oklahoma over Oklahoma State.

Southwest: Baylor over Rice, Texas Christian over Southern Methodist.

Far West: Arizona State over Arizona, UCLA over Utah.

SATURDAY, DEC. 5

Maryland over North Carolina State, Syracuse over UCLA.

American League Attendance Climbs

BOSTON (AP)—The American League drew 9,149,454 fans in the 1959 season, its best attendance mark in 10 years, League President Joe Cronin said today.

The figure represents an increase of 1,853,420—about 25 per cent—over the 1958 attendance of 7,296,043.

The New York Yankees, who slipped to third place in the standings, led the league in attedance with 1,522,030 at home, and also paced the league on the road, drawing 1,967,793.

Of the eight teams, only Boston failed to show an increase in home attendance slipped 92,945 to 984,102.

Cleveland enjoyed the biggest increase last season, drawing 1,497,976 compared with only 663,805 in 1958. Pennant winning Chicago boosted its home gate 625,693 to 1,423,144. Detroit was the only other American League club drawing more than a million in 1959, with 1,221,221.

E. E. (Rip) Miller, assistant director of athletics at the U. S. Naval Academy, played tackle for Notre Dame's 1924 team.

Local Loop Slates 3 Tilts

The Circleville Independent cage league has three games scheduled Thursday night at the local Coliseum.

Undefeated Veterans of Foreign Wars will take on Orient Farmers Exchange at 7 p. m. Williamsport will meet Barr's All-Stars in the second test and a match between Amanda and River Oil will follow.

VFW gained the league lead last week by handing River Oil a 74-72 defeat, the first of the season for the Chillicotheans.

Orient, a capable cage squad, is expected to give VFW plenty of trouble. River Oil, fighting to remain in the loop running, will face a formidable opponent in Amanda.

Spires Leads Way For Circle D

Circle D Recreation continued to hold its bulge in the local Monday Night Late League following action this week.

The Circle D aggregation has won 28 and lost 11. In second place is Ramey's Plasterers with a 23-16 record.

Rick Spires of Circle D captured individual honors Monday night with a high 211 game a 579 for the three-game series.

The Circle D team reaped more honors by posting high single and three-game scores of 966 and 2,720 respectively.

One Game on Tap Friday Night

One game appears on the Pickaway County basketball horizon Friday when Scioto Twp. opens its 1959-60 season against Boys Industrial School, Lancaster.

The BIS lads invade the Buffalo school for the first time. Scioto lost four of last year's starting five and will be rebuilding around the sharp-shooting of Roy Sanders.

Games on tap tonight include Darby at Laurelville, Monroe at Atlanta, Williamsport at Clarksburg and Saltcreek at Centralia.

National League Attendance Dips

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League's attendance in 1959 declined 170,396 from the 1958 figure but the total of 9,994,200 still was the third highest in the loop's history.

Official figures reported today from National League headquarters showed the 1959 paid attendance was behind only the 10,164,596 the loop drew in 1958 and the 10,388,470 it drew in the post-war "boom" year of 1957.

Myers Holds Scoring Lead

David Myers, one of the top favorites to cop the 1959-60 Pickaway County scoring crown, grabbed the first week lead in the race with a 27.8-point average.

The Williamsport senior six-footer has seared the nets for 111 points in four games. He is closely followed by another favorite, Atlanta's Ronnie Morris.

The slender Morris has pushed through 34 field goals and 13 free throws for 81 points and a 27-point average. Ashville's Bobby Hoover holds thrid with an 18-point average in just one game.

Three men are bracketed in fourth position with 15-point averages. They are Ashville's Richie Hollenback and Tom Rathburn and Walnut's Boyd Boone.

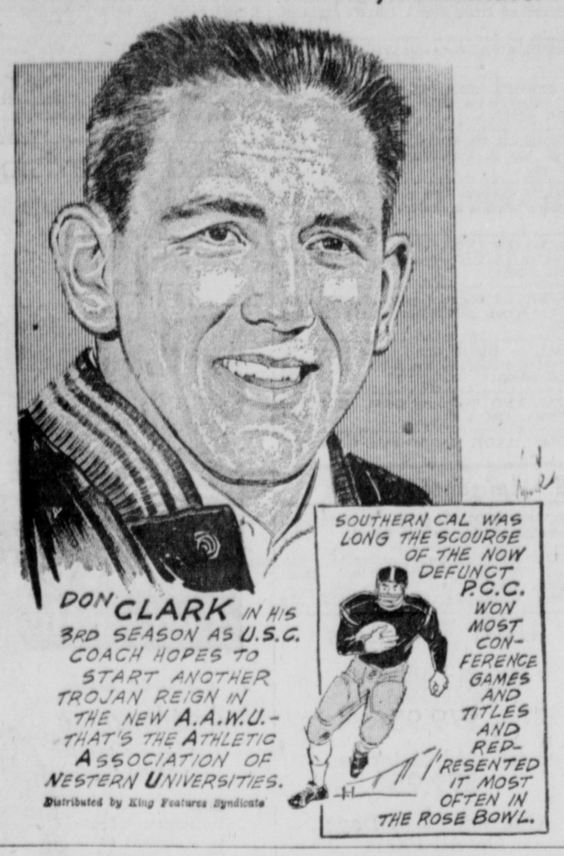
HIGH HOPES - - - - - - By Alan Maver



Browns Given 9½-Point Edge Over 49ers

CLEVELAND (AP)—There is a great similarity between the Cleveland Browns and their opponents next Sunday, the San Francisco 49ers. Both are strong defensive teams with high-powered running attacks.

That the Browns are 9-point favorites to defeat the 49ers probably results from San Francisco's loss of starting quarterback Y. A. Tittle. Tittle's right knee buckled when he was tackled last Sunday. John Brodie, a second-year man from Stanford, will fill in for Y.A.

Four of the National Football League's top 10 runners will be on the field Sunday — Jimmy Brown and Bob Mitchell of Cleveland and San Francisco's J. D. Smith and Joe Perry.

Brown leads the league with 1,013 yards gained in 214 carries. Smith is second, gaining 788 yards in 161 tries. Perry is fifth with 582 yards in 127 trips. Mitchell, whose 90 - yard touchdown run against Washington was the league's longest from scrimmage this season, is ninth. He has rushed for 508 yards in 85 attempts and leads the league with a six-yard average.

Both teams will take 6-3 records into Sunday's game at Municipal Stadium but both lost last weekend. Pittsburgh defeated the Browns 21-20. The Baltimore Colts walloped San Francisco 45-14.

The 45 points scored by Baltimore are almost a third of all the points scored against San Francisco this year. The 49ers have permitted opponents to score only 147 points, the best mark in the Western Conference Cleveland has allowed fewer points than any team in the NFL, 124.

The San Francisco and Cleveland offenses score with about the same frequency. In nine games the Browns scored 215 points to San Francisco's 206.

Kingston Downs Southeastern

Kingston ran its junior high record to four straight victories last night by handing previously undefeated Southeastern a 37-26 loss.

The Redskins powered to an 18-6 intermission lead and held on for the win as the invading Panthers outscored Kingston in the final half, 20-19.

Danny Vollmar led the Redskins with 16 points. Gail Nichols and Joe Streitenberger racked up 10 and 11 points respectively to do the only Redskin scoring.

Barker was top man for Southeastern with nine markers. Next game for Kingston is next Wednesday against Unioto on the Chillicothe school's court. Both teams are undefeated.

Southeastern — Higgins 3-1-7; Moats 1-0-2; Barker 4-1-9; Walter 1-0-2; Jordan 1-0-2; Park 2-0-4; totals 12-2-26.
Kingston — Nichols 4-2-10; Streitenberger 5-1-11; Kelley 0-0-0; Delong 0-0-0; Vollmar 7-2-16 ;Davis 0-0-0; totals 16-5-37.

REMOTE CONTROL—No coaching from the sidelines doesn't work here for Paul Brown, head mentor of the Cleveland Browns, does just that from his car as the Brownies work out at old League Park in Cleveland. Brown is suffering from an inflamed trachea and transmitted his instructions to one of his alternate guards, Gene Hickerson.

Jimmy Brown Behind '58 Pace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Cleveland fullback Jimmy Brown has passed the one thousand yard mark in rushing but he'll need plenty more steam to better his 1958 National Football League record of 1,527 yards.

Brown is far ahead in the race for individual ground gaining honors, NFL statistics released today showed. He has picked up 1,013 yards in 214 carries for a 4.7 average. Runnerup J. D. Smith of San Francisco has 788 yards in 161 carries for a 4.9 average. remaining games.

Stoutsville Tops Pickaway

Stoutsville overpowered an inexperienced Pickaway last night to chalk up an easy win, 58-33, on the Pirate court.

The Indians ran up a 17-8 first quarter and coasted to victory. Both teams substituted freely during the final period after Stoutsville held a 53-21 lead.

Bobby Sells found his scoring eye for 16 points from inside the key and the corner while Richard Bussert hit for 13 markers from out front.

Jim Cole and Gary Warner chipped in 10 points apiece. Earl Haddox led the Pirates with eight points. Stoutsville used a 1-2-2 defense. Pickaway cluntered with a 2-3 defense.

Stoutsville's reserve aggregation bounced the Pirates, 38-28. The Indians are undefeated in both reserve and varsity play with 2-0 slates.

Stoutsville — Anderson 0-0-0; James Smith 0-0-0; Sells 7-2-16; Martin 0-1-1; Cole 4-2-10; Gwin 1-0-2; Crites 2-0-4; Jerry Smith 1-0-2; R. Bussert 5-3-13; Warner 5-0-10; totals 25-8-58.

Tittle Sidelined Until Colts Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bald Eagle is on crutches today but he hopes to be wingin' again when the 49ers meet the Baltimore Colts here Dec. 5.

Y. A. Tittle arrived home Tuesday night and needed crutches to get from a plane at San Francisco Airport to a waiting car.

Tittle, injured Sunday in the 49ers' 45-14 loss at Baltimore, was in good spirits and grinning as his pretty wife and their three children ran to his wheelchair and planted kisses on him.

"It's not really so bad," Tittle said as he showed reporters his bandaged right knee. "We'll give it some treatment and I hope I'll be playing when Baltimore gets here."

Ohio State Basketball Team To Average 6-5 in Height

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The many "plus factors" about Ohio State's basketball team must be tempered with two facts, says their coach—a tough schedule and the youth of the club.

Fred B. Taylor made the comment Tuesday as he briefed sports-writers on the Buckeyes' 24-game 1959-60 schedule.

Taylor listed his plus factors as good size, shooting, rebounding, maneuvering speed, intelligence, attitude and talent.

The former Ohio State center listed size at the top of the list His sarting lineup averages more than 6-5 including 6-8 sophomore Jerry Lucas.

However, Taylor added: "You also have to have a little luck to be successful and if you go to sleep in our league, someone raps you."

Already rated in some polls as one of the nation's top ten, Ohio State meets Wake Forest here Dec. 1 in its opener. The Buckeyes play four home games in the first seven days of the season. Indiana and Illinois are the first conference games. The pre-conference slate includes St. Louis and Brigham Young.

"No one can accuse us of playing an easy schedule," Taylor noted.

In addition to Lucas, who broke most of Ohio's high school records in three years at Middletown, Taylor's team includes:

Larry Siegfried, 6-4 Shelby junior, one of the Big Ten's best guards last year with a 19.6 scoring average. Of him Taylor says: "We're counting on him as our back court quarterback this year. He's a real competitor."

Joe Roberts, 6-6, and Dick Furry, 6-7, both Columbus seniors, at forwards. Taylor says Furry has met the challenge of a sophomore trying to take his job, and that Roberts "when he is right, is very right—we look for Joe to have a fine year."

The other probable starter, at guard, is Mel Nowell, 6-2 sophomore from Columbus. Taylor says he's a good shooter, passer, feeder and has good hands, and that "he can take a bump and it doesn't bother him."

As for the other members of the Buck squad, John Havlicek, a sophomore, has been pressing for a starting chance at forward. Taylor says he's a "throwback to the old days—he likes to play defense." Havlicek, 6-5, from Lansing, Ohio, has great speed.

Then there's Richie Hoyt, 6-4, a Mount Vernon junior, and Howard Nourse, 6-7 senior from Springfield who probably will be used in spot assignments along with Bobby Knight, 6-4 sophomore sharpshooter from Orrville.

Gary Gearhart, 6-2, New Lebanon sophomore, and J. T. Landes, 5-11 Columbus sophomore, have been slowed by surgery during the preseason practice, Gearhart with an appendectomy and Landes with an abdominal operation.

The rest of the squad includes John Cedargren, 6-5, and Dave Barker, 6-2, both Columbus seniors; Jim Allen 5-9, Columbus, and Gary Milliken, 5-11, Waynesburg, Pa., both juniors, up from last season's junior varsity, and Nelson Miller, 6-3, Reading, Ohio, sophomore.

Woody Says 1960 Looks Very Rosy

CLEVELAND (AP) — "If I thought I would continue as a losing coach, my coaching days would be over," Woody Hayes of Ohio State told a gathering of Cleveland Buckeye alumni Tuesday night.

Hayes says he has "lots of good ones" for next fall's squad and that this year's freshman group was the "best we've had in nine years."

The OSU 1959 record of 3-5-1, the Bucks' worst season since 1947, was the fault of his coaching, Hayes said.

"We passed too much," he explained, adding:

"We felt last spring we lacked power and should pass more. We think we still can jam that ball down their throats. When you get fancy, you get beat."

Fumbles were tagged by Hayes as one of the chief causes of defeat. He said:

"If backs fumble, they should be benched. When a back comes off the field after a fumble, I want to see him crying, and I want it to hurt him."

But the coach feels also that he should shield the athlete from public criticism—at least to the extent of having no part of such.

"In nine years, you never have seen an unfriendly quotation in the paper from our staff because a boy made a mistake," he said.

"If the players make mistakes, they want to be told, and they don't want to read it in the paper."

The poor season just ended hasn't caused "as much growling as I had hoped there would be," Hayes said. "That may be because there wasn't a great team in the Big Ten this year," he continued. "The winning team, Wisconsin, lost two games and won from the last-place team, Minnesota, by only four points last Saturday."

Toledo Campaign Expenses Reported

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Groups seeking to retain the city manager system of government in Toledo raised $16,132 in funds and spent $8,398 in the recent councilmanic primary campaign, statements filed with the Lucas County Election Board showed today.

The City Manager League of Toledo listed receipts of $4,672 and expenses of $5,238. The Citizens Committee to Retain City Manager government listed contributions of $11,460 and expenditures of $3,160.

In the election, two proposed charter amendments which would have provided for an elected mayor were defeated.

Whole Family May Enjoy Christmas Party Activity

VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Family parties are the rage again. Bigger families created the trend, for how else can you entertain in a tiny house? Shut the youngsters up in a room? Perish the thought. Small fry will surely become mischievous and a nuisance, and why shouldn't they rebel? It is their home, too.

The easiest way to have fun during the holidays and see your friends too, is to invite them and their children. Maybe the house will take a beating, but that's to be expected.

The open house idea for holidays, popular generations ago, is a wonderful and inexpensive way to entertain. You can serve simple fare, exhibit your choice silver, decorative china and glassware.

One family uses the two-table buffet technique, one table for small fry, one for adults. If you'd like to experiment with it, keep everything on the tables pretty much the same. The cloths could be bright green or red felt or linen. The punch bowls could be the same. Hand crafted punch bowls look traditional, even though contemporary. Children could have a punch of fruit juice or a creamy milk shake. Parents can take their traditional egg nog with cognac, and the children will not be the wiser.

The menu on that day should be simple—small sandwiches, cakes, cheese, crackers. After all it's the get-together that counts, and if done between meal times, it will be fun no matter what is served.

The children's table could have small bowls of Santa-faced lollipops, candy canes, balloons to keep their interest alive. The eldest child in the household could be appointed host or hostess at the table, a good way to teach them the ways of gracious entertaining.

A gay grab bag filled with tiny inexpensive gifts that will keep the youngsters busy for a while can start the party off right—all the children might disappear with coloring books, things to build or push, and let the parents have fun. It's a good plan, and sometimes it works. A small record player in the children's area can hold their attention for a brief period.

If you have a large circle of friends, this party can be duplicated throughout the holidays. Once you have the essential decorations and table settings organized, there is nothing more to do but supply food and clean the house when the party is over, a much easier way to entertain that at a sit-down meal.

A great many clever hostesses do all their entertaining during one period. Once you have invested in a big cleaning chore, fresh flowers, new clothes, perhaps, why not entertain all your friends at a series of parties, and relax for a long time. It's one way to pay off a lot of debts with a minimum of effort and expense.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—A raging fire punctuated by explosions and the sound of falling timbers, spelled the end of a two-story farm supply manufacturing firm here Tuesday night.

The Webber C. French Farm Supply Co. was destroyed in a spectacular blaze fought by fire companies from 10 communities. Flames shot as high as 150 feet.

At least two men were injured in the blaze which began about 5 p.m. Kenneth McDaniel, about 38, was taken to a Columbus hospital with a skull fracture. A worker at the firm, he was attempting to rescue records.

Charles Seymour, 68, another employe, was hospitalized here with head injuries.

A spark in a sawdust blower may have been the cause of the blaze, reports said. The first explosion knocked out the front of the building. The blast apparently was caused by paint. Loss may reach one million dollars, observers said.

Flying sparks carried to adjoining stockyards, homes, railroad freight cars and communications lines. Several of the freight cars were destroyed. Other blazes were quickly controlled.

Some communications lines between here and Cincinnati were knocked out temporarily. The Highway Patrol said part of its communications with its Wilmington office were cut. The lines ran along the railroad which adjoined the factory.

The French Co., which makes such items as hog and cattle feeders, was reportedly heavily stocked with wood and finished products. No official damage estimate has been made.

Fire companies from as far away as Wilmington, 22 miles southwest, answered the call. City police and Highway Patrolmen had to cope with scores of onlookers crowding the streets.

Sam B. Marting purchased the French Co. last year. About 30 persons were employed there. Part of the factory occupied the old Wonder Stove Co. A new addition had been built recently.

Marting was in the news just last week when the Miami Trace Board of Education sued him and two Columbus attorneys for nearly a half-million dollars.

Gumdrop Gives Youngster, 11, Early Vacation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thanksgiving "vacation" arrived early for Charlotte Sexten, 11, of nearby Westerville — all because bus.

It was against the rules to eat on the bus, said Westerville School Superintendant Ray Morris and until Charlotte's parents reassure driver Darwin Rees it won't happen again, Charlotte can't ride the bus.

Her father, Nelson Sexten, while continuing to send Charlotte's sister, Phyllis, 9, to Hawthorne School on the school bus, isn't sending Charlotte to school at all.

"I'm a property owner and a taxpayer and I will not take her to school as long as a bus goes right by our front door," he maintains—so Charlotte hasn't been to school the past four school days.

Morris said the regulation, in effect for years, is to prevent children from throwing orange peels, apple cores and candy wrappers at each other.

If the Sextens can settle the matter with driver Rees, who caught the sixth-grader in the act, Morris will take no truancy action against her, he promised.

Two Crashes In This Area Injure Five

Two auto accidents injured five persons in this area yesterday. The crashes were investigated by the State Highway Patrol and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The first crash was at 1:20 p. m. when a car driven by Noah Shaffer, 18, of 129 York St., careened off a roadway about two miles south of Circleville.

Shaffer suffered a forehead laceration and contusions. Passengers injured were Richard Sheline, 17, of 375 Town St., and Donald Wolf, 17, of 379 Weldon Ave. Two other passengers were not injured.

Sheline suffered a deep laceration of the right cheek. Wolf received contusions on the forehead. All three were taken to Berger Hospital.

DEPUTY Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said Shaffer and his companions were on a hunting trip. The road they were using is owned by the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Shaffer said his northbound car sent out of control when it struck some brush, then rolled over a bank at a curve. Deputy Radcliff said the auto was heavily damaged.

The second accident was at 7:10 p. m. on the Boggs road near Atlanta. State Highway Patrolman Gene Miller said a car driven by Marvin Manbeavers, 21, Route 1, Jeffersonville, crashed off the highway, struck a tree and a guy wire on an electric pole, then rolled over.

Two passengers were injured. Linda Funk, 18, New Holland, suffered left hand injuries. Sharon Flaker, 14, Williamsport received a lacerated lip and a nose bleed. Both were treated by family physicians.

Nola Flaker, 17, another passenger, was not injured, Patrolman Miller said.

The patrolman said the car, headed south, went off the left side of the road at a curve. He said the auto was heavily damaged.

Miller said power was off in the area for a short time. He said the impact against the electric poll-pulled wires loose.

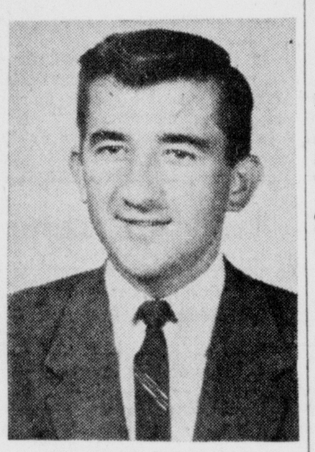
Sheriff Radcliff, Solicitor Robert Huffer Get Petitions

CHARLES H. RADCLIFF



ROBERT H. HUFFER

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today took out nominating petitions from the County Board of Elections for re-election.

The 64-year-old sheriff is seeking his 10th consecutive term, the longest in Ohio's history and could possibly be the longest tenure of office for a sheriff in the United States.

Radcliff is a native of Circleville, born on S. Scioto St. He attended school in Jackson Twp. where he farmed with his father.

After his schooling he farmed in conjunction with his father before spending 14 months in the U. S. Army. Most of Army career was spent with the 603rd Combat Engineer Battalion overseas.

• • •

HE RETURNED to farming after World War I for three years. Then he was employed with Rader and Neff road contractors.

He spent one year in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad and another year with the Standard Oil of Company before returning here to work 6½ years with the Pickaway Dairy.

He first ran for election 29 years ago for a two-year term. He was re-elected for two more successive two-year terms before the State Legislature extended the term to four years and made it possible for sheriffs to serve as many terms as possible. Before, a sheriff could serve only two terms.

The Democratic incumbent is a former member of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, serving as president one year. He has been a member of the Elks Lodge for approximately 28 years.

His other fraternal and civic organizations include Blue Lodge Circleville Chapter No. 23; Intyrian Council No. 60; Scioto Commandery No. 35; past president, trustee and now treasurer of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Assn., of which he is a life member. He is a member of the Methodist Church.

Radcliff has two children. They are Mrs. Charles Gray, Lancaster, and Dwight, Route 3, who is his chief deputy. He has four grandchildren.

• • •

THE 32ND DEGREE Mason and his wife, Sadie, reside at 121 W. Franklin St. He also is a member of the Scottish and Alladin Temple, Columbus, the Pickaway Shrine Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and a charter member of both the local American Legion and Kiwanis Club.

Other affiliations include National Assn. of Sheriffs, Fraternal Order of Eagles and Redmen. When Radcliff first entered office he received $126.35 a month or $1,516.-20 per year.

His present salary is $3,900 a year and it is scheduled to increase to $5,100 starting the new term, Jan. 1, 1961. If 1960 census figures are used, the sheriff should receive $5,300.

Tardiness Alibi Is Rare

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—A first grade teacher asked a girl pupil why she was tardy. The girl, after thinking a moment said: "I was walking behind a slow dog."

Robert H. Huffer, 426 N. Court St., yesterday took out nominating petitions from the Pickaway County Board of Elections seeking election as County Prosecuting Attorney.

Huffer, re-elected November 3 as Circleville Solicitor, is a Circleville native and a 1948 graduate of Circleville High School.

He received an AB from Ohio State University in 1952 and LL.B degree from OSU's College of Law in 1954, being admitted to the Ohio State Bar that same year.

He spent two years as a First Lieutenant in the U. S. Army as a Nike missile officer, stationed in Virginia. After his honorable discharge he opened law practice here in May, 1956.

• • •

HE WAS ELECTED City Solicitor in November, 1956. Huffer presently has an established practice at 210 N. Court St.

The Democratic executive committee chariman, post he was named to fill in the fall of 1956, is a member and past director of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

He is a trustee of the Pickaway Country Club, member of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce and Circleville Booster Club.

Presently he is serving as president of the Pickaway County Bar Assn. He is 28-years-old and a former fraternity president at OSU.

The present prosecutor is Ray W. Davis, 114½ N. Court St., a Republican. He has indicated he will not seek re-election.

The present prosecutor's salary is $3,900. The recent increase, granted by the General Assembly, will increase the salary to $4,300 starting Jan. 1, 1961.

This figure does not include the county's paying of all utility bills, rent, fulltime secretary and investigation fees.

No Herald Tomorrow

In order that the employes of The Circleville Herald might spend the Thanksgiving holiday with their families there will be no edition of the paper tomorrow.

All regular features and comics which ordinarily appear in tomorriw's paper will be in Friday's edition.

Dayton Deputies Accused in Beatings

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two youths from Newcastle, Ind., testified here Tuesday that they were beaten by a Montgomery County sheriff's deputy to make them sign confessions.

Both youths, arrested in a burglary investigation, told their story in U.S. District Court.

Gerald E. Hammond, 21, and Theodore Clark, 20, said former deputy Robert C. Beckett hit them on the face and neck with an open hand in November, 1957.

Year's First Snow Blanket Covers County

Roads Treacherous, But Officials Say To Be Clear Later

A wintery holiday weekend will be experienced over Thanksgiving by Pickaway County residents as Mother Nature last night placed her first snow blanket on the area.

Sheriff's Department officials report that snow flurries began falling around 9 p. m. and continued through the night and early morning.

At approximately 5 a. m. today, a heavier snow started falling, letting up around 9 a. m. County Weatherman Harry Styers reported .06 of an inch of snow fell, giving the area approximately an inch of white "stuff" on the ground.

This year's first snow came four days before the initial snowfall of last year, which descended November 28.

• • •

WEATHER observers informed Ohioans today not to worry about a repeat snowfall of 1950, when the midwest, especially central Ohio, was inundated for nearly week due to the heaviest snow in many years.

The weather forecast for the holiday is cloudy and cold today, tonight and Thursday with light snow flurries drifting in throughout the weekend.

Highways were reported treacherous, slippery and ice this morning but both the County Engineer's Department and the State Highway Garage said most roads should be clear by noon.

Sheriff's officials warned residents to take it easy on township roads and especially bridges. There have been three reports of trucks stalled on the highways due to ice and snow and Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff has investigated one accident of an automobile slipping off the road.

Ed Shellhamer, County Engineering superintendent reported county roads will be in fine shape by noon if no more snow falls.

He said 14 trucks are out salting and sanding county roads. No scrapers are being used for the snow is turning to slush soon after hitting the ground.

• • •

STATE HIGHWAY superintendent Ernie Weiler said all state roads were treacherous and icy early today but should be clear and safe by noon.

He stated that all primary roads were dangerous for driving but State Routes 22 and 23 were attacked first with sand and salt to clear them as soon as possible.

The Columbus Weather Bureau forecast 35-36 degree temperatures for today, dropping to 23 degrees tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to hit 40 degrees.

Although 0.3 of an inch o fpercipitation has fallen in the past two days, the area still trails the average monthly rainfall by 0.44 of an inch.

The year's rainfall trails the yearly average by 2.58 inches. The Scioto River is normal at 2:45 feet.

1619 First Year For Thanksgiving

On Dec. 4, 1619, a tiny ship anchored in what is now the James River in Virginia. Debarking, the ship's 38 passengers knelt in prayer and celebrated the day as one of thanksgiving — possibly the first such observance in the New World.

Two years later the Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth set aside a day for thanksgiving and Massachusetts Bay Colony celebrated a thanksgiving day starting in 1630. In 1863, President Lincoln designated the fourth Thursday in November as America's Thanksgiving Day.

The Englishmen who landed at the mouth of the James River in 1619 had sailed from their homeland Sept. 16, 1619, to join the growing colony in Virginia. Their first order had read:

"Impr wee ordaine that the day of our ships arrivall at the place assigned for plantacon in the land of Virginia shall be yearly and perpetually keept holy as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God."

Accounts survive of the ship's order and of the fact that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated. But whether it was commemorated from that year on is unknown.

An Indian massacre in 1622 wiped out the small settlement at Harrison's Landing, now the site of Berkeley Plantation, Va. The only survivor was a 12-year-old boy who was carried away by the Indians.

As near as can be figured, the ship was captained by John Woodleefe. His descendants claim that his orders, a copy of which is contained in the "Virginia Papers" described in the May, 1899, Bulletin of the New York Public Library, were given the captain by King James.

Prominent Americans Tell Meaning of Thanksgiving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Giving thanks at Thanksgiving can mean gratitude for many many things — health, success, peace, love.

To underscore the deeper meaning of the holiday, The Associated Press asked a number of prominent Americans this question:

On Thanksgiving, 1959, what are the things in your own life you have most cause to be thankful for?

Thought-provoking replies came from figures well known in government, science, the arts.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist—"I find it impossible to speak of any one circumstance for which I am thankful. There are many to mention, both general and personal.

"In the first place, as a physician, I am particularly thankful for what has happened in medicine during my lifetime in the U.S.A., with the remarkable advances that have come. But I realize at the same time how much more remains to be done, especially with the new challenge to health that in some ways may have been the result of the faulty use made of our prosperity."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon — "Americans have countless reasons to thank God on this day. As I think of the meaning of Thanksgiving, I can't help but find running through my mind the oppressions I have seen on trips to totalitarian countries. I am reminded that all of us should be thankful for something we ordinarily take for granted—the freedoms we cherish in America."

Arthur Godfrey, television personality who underwent surgery for lung cancer last spring—"On Thanksgiving Day, 1959, I am thankful to be alive and healthy."

Nathan M. Pusey, head of Harvard University—"Just as all of us are personally grateful for what school and college training did for us, I believe we Americans should give thanks today that the purposes and needs of education are coming to be more widely cherished and increasingly advanced by the general public."

Henry A. Wallace, vicepreisdent under President Franklin D. Roosevelt and now specializing in progressive farming—"I am exceedingly thankful that we have a president who could say at Abilene, Kan., on Oct. 14:

" 'No other aspiration dominates my own being so much as this: That the nations of the East and West will find dependable, self-guaranteeing methods to reduce the vast and essentially wasteful expenditures for armaments, so that a part of the savings may be used in a comprehensive and effective effort for world improvement.' "

Clare Boothe Luce, former U.S. ambassador to Italy — "I am grateful that the United States is a land where so many people are so free to make so many choices among so many things and ideas. I am grateful to all legislators who know that their task is the orderly increase of every citizen's area of material choices; to our educators who understand that their task is to form every citizen's mind to make reasonable choices; and to our churchmen of all faiths."

Thursday Due To Be Chilly; Snow Likely

Cold Front Moves Through Ohio Ahead Of Holiday Period

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thanksgiving Day in Ohio will be nasty weatherwise — a good day to linger longer than usual at the festive board and with old friends.

The weatherman says Thursday will be chilly with snow likely in most parts of the state and with rain or snow in southern areas.

A cold front moved through Ohio late Tuesday, changing rain showers to snow flurries. All parts of Ohio were reporting scattered snow this morning along with winds gusting 25 to 35 m.p.h.

Herter Foresees New Pact With Russia on Berlin Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter thinks the Western powers could negotiate with The Soviet Union a new and better plan for the future of disputed Berlin—but he is by no means sure they will be able to do so in the summit discussions now foreseen.

This cautiously hopeful view was expressed by Herter at a news conference Tuesday when he struck back at criticism of the administration's Berlin attitude voiced by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a speech last week.

Acheson contended that an effort to make a Berlin deal with the Soviet Union would result simply in a defeat for the West. Negotiation, Acheson said, "is only a polite, misleading phrase for a retreat and an acceptance of Russian terms."

Herter told questioning reporters that what Acheson had done "was to build up a number of straw men and then knock them down."

Acheson assumed, he said, that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is standing on the same position he proclaimed a year ago when he exploded the Berlin crisis by threatening to force the United States, Britain and France to pull out of West Berlin.

Actually, Herter said, the Soviet position has moved "a very long way" from that.

Furthermore, Herter said, Acheson lacked "any grounds for assuming that we were necessarily going to make concessions which would be detrimental (to the preservation of West Berlin's freedom)."

Herter said the Western powers should be able to agree in Paris next month on a proposed date for a Big Four summit meeting, and he knows of no plan to delay such a meeting until 1961, as London reports have speculated.

The Berlin issue is one of the major topics due for discussion with Khrushchev when the summit meeting is held, probably next spring.

The present position of Western forces in West Berlin is based on war-won rights of occupation. The Western powers supply their forces there, and civilian goods move to the city, through corridors across Communist East Germany. Khrushchev threatened a year ago to turn over total control of the corridor to East Germany, which might then have closed the corridor.

Ohio Patrolmen Nab Trio Of North Carolina Escapees

JACKSON, Ohio (AP) — Fast work by Ohio Highway Patrolmen near here Tuesday night netted three escapees from a North Carolina road gang wanted in the killing of a guard.

Swooping in from two directions, patrolmen nabbed the trio as they attempted to stop cars on U.S. 35 east of here in an apparent scheme to switch cars.

Whereabouts of the men was tipped to the patrol by a truck driver. He noted a car pulled off the road with West Virginia license tags he had seen on a wanted notice.

Monday, five men broke from a road gang near Jefferson, N.C., shooting and fatally injuring work foreman Fields Absher, 55. Three of the men commandeered a car at gunpoint Tuesday in Beckley, W. Va.

Patrolmen squelched the trio's plans to stop other vehicles Tuesday night. While other patrol units moved into position, one officer stopped vehicles and warned them not to pick up the hitchhikers. From other motorists he learned of the fugitives' movements.

The three patrolmen pounced on the surprised escapees so quickly they offered no resistance. Two of the fugitives were in the roadway, the third lay on their car's back seat.

"The fellow on the back seat didn't do anything when he found himself looking up the end of a 12-gauge shotgun," said Patrolman Seth Inskeep, one of the arresting officers.

The three men nabbed were (with their sentences):

Tommy Stiles, 27, of Asheville, N. S., 18-25 years for armed robbery and larceny; George Brown, 29, of North Wilkesboro, N. C., 22-26 years for attempted criminal assault, and John Allan Henry, of Miami, Fla., 10 years for armed robbery.

Inskeep said the men apparently didn't realize they had killed the North Carolina guard. The Ohio patrol is holding the trio pending action by North Carolina officials.

The two remaining escapees, James T. Waller, 35, and John W. Burgess Jr., 33, are being sought in Mercer County, W. Va. Reports say they may have been sighted in that area.

For eight days it packed both Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City. A quarter-million delegates from 123 lands were present at the climax of the event to hear Nathan H. Knorr, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society's President, speak on the subject "God's Kingdon Rules—Is the World's End Near"?

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7:30 p. m. tonight.

Engineering Firm Estimates Cost Of Sewer Plant

Pickaway County Commissioner consultant engineers, Elmer Barrett and Associates, Chillicothe recently estimated the cost of operating and maintianing the Knollwood sewer district at $1,475 per year.

The engineering firm said that if members of the County Engineering office would perform the necessary maintenance and inspection of the plant, the swere district operation could run as low as $640 per year.

This lower cost would include the electrical power used to operate the plant plus a monthly inspection by a firm specializing in sewer plants inspections.

False Rumor Is Blamed in College Fuss

ADA, Ohio (AP)—A cross burning by students at Ohio Northern University resulted from a misunderstanding, F. Bringle McIntosh, university president, said yesterday.

A cross was burned in front of the administration building Sunday, and about 50 hooded students tried to burn a cross in front of the home of Dr. Robert R. Huddleston, religious counselor.

McIntosh said a "false rumor" started all the fuss. The rumor, he said, was that Dr. Huddleston had said Catholics on the campus of the Methodist school "are not cooperating in a religion and life program conducted . . . with the participation of leaders of all faiths."

McIntosh said he spent "all day yesterday tracing down the rumor. I met with 50 student leaders of fraternities and educational groups, with faculty members and school officials and am thoroughly confident that the statements attributed to Dr. Huddleson are completely false."

I was McIntosh who broke up the cross burning attempt at Dr. Huddleston's home. The students, wearing paper hoods, carried banners reading, "Down with Happy Bob" and "Happy Bob Must Go."

McIntosh said he had no idea who the students were and does not intend to take any disciplinary action "because it was thoroughly a misunderstanding."

He said there is "no foundation to any belief that there is religious prejudice on campus. Although we are a Methodist school, our discussions on religious and public issues last week included participation by leaders of most religions."

Tires, Jack Taken At Local Garage

Joe Moats Motor Sales, Lancaster Pike, informed local police yesterday that three tires and a jack were taken from a used car which was parked in the rear of the garage.

The theft was investigated by Patrolmen Donald Adams and Wesley Barton.

Financial Analysts Grow Cautious on 'Golden Sixties'

NEW YORK (AP)—The "golden sixties" are just around the corner—but Wall Street's attitude to them is inged wih caution.

Time was when stock market analysts spoke in glowing terms of the opportunities for profit .. that lay in the '60s. They based it greatly on the fact tha the rash of warime marriages in 1941-'45 produced a bumper crop of babies—and these 'babies' would start marrying and setting up homes of their own beginning in the '60s.

They'd want new houses, new cars, new refrigerators, new television sets — everything a young family wants—and the companies that make these things would enjoy a booming business. Their stocks, too, would soar on the nation's exchanges, it was said.

As the '60s approach, however, they are beclouded by—

An unresolved steel strike.

A possible railroad strike.

Strikes in other metalworking industries.

Stiffer interest rates.

Increasing foreign competition.

A drain of gold from the country.

Apparent Soviet superiority in missiles, and a continued cold war.

Veteran stock market analyst Edson Gould of Arthur Wiesenberger & Co., a distinctly upper-bracket investment house, looked at these elements and said: "As I see it, the outlook is not good. For the immediate future, the economy looks overdeveloped and vulnerable. I advise cauion in the stock market—keep your funds no more than 65 per cent invested. Save 35 per cent for a reserve."

G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, estimes that by 1970 the total goods and services produced by the United States will rise from the 1959 estimated total of 450 billion (b) dollars to about 700 billion (b) dollars. He anicipates a population of almost 215 million in the United States.

"The American economy in 1960," he said, "stands on the brink of an incredible decade."

He predicted that the number of Americans who own stock will increase from the present total of 12½ million to 22 million by 1970.

"The possible shape of tomorrow is appealing, but achieving it ought not to be oversimplified," said Funston. "For we are also up against stupendous stumbling blocks—an appalling air of complacency the continued danger of inflation, an unrealistic tax structure that discourages sufficient growth and an apparent unwillingness to eliminate featherbedding and high-cost production."

Photos 1958

HARRY RAYMOND POPE

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

HARRY RAYMOND POPE is being sought as one of the "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives" by the FBI for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for burglary and assault with a dangerous weapon. These charges arose out of a drugstore robbery in Phoenix, Ariz., on Nov. 23, 1958, when Pope was struck by a policeman's bullet while attempting to flee from the scene.

Pope was hospitalized, losing his right eye, while free on bail. He failed to appear for trial on April 22, 1959, in Maricopa County, Arizona, Superior Court. He was charged in a Federal warrant issued at Phoenix on May 20, 1959, with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution for burglary and assault with a dangerous weapon.

The fugitive, also known as Emanuel Moon and Harry Ray Pope, has worked as truck driver, welder, laborer and mechanic.

Pope has been convicted for burglary, simple burglary, attempted burglary, illegal possession of narcotics and driving intoxicated.

The wanted one-eyed man has a quick temper, a sadistic nature and "nothing to live for." Allegedly he has with him at all times a .357 Magnum revolver, .45 caliber automatic pistol, .38 caliber snub-nose revolver and a sawed-off shot gun. He should be considered extremely dangerous and he threatens to kill arresting officers.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

Electronic Auto Safety

In achieving greater traffic safety, which is most important—curbing irresponsible and careless drivers, or making automobiles and highways safer?

Some new thoughts on this old question are offered in a report by the Safety Research Institute of Columbia University.

The researchers found that most accidents are caused by the inherent limitations of human beings to cope with the problems in driving high-powered automobiles. "No driver is immune to unsafe driving behavior," the report states. And the human factor is blamed for 80 to 85 per cent of all accidents.

From this, the experts drew the conclusion that long-range approaches will be necessary if driving is to be improved. But they despaired of any success in this field immediately.

So, they truned to the improvement of automobiles as the way to cut the traffic toll now. The declared that 75 per cent of all traffic fatalities could be reduced to injuries if cars included shock-absorbing interiors and doors that did not fly open, seats and cushions that did not become displaced, and adequate devices such as safety belts to keep people in their seats. And, the report said, many accidents could be prevented entirely with automatic car and road devices to measure such "tension responses" as the strength of the driver's grip on the steering wheel, the heart rate, frequency and magnitude of head movements, breathing cycle characteristics and hand tremor.

These devices, now possible in a system of electronic highways, would warn a driver when he was incapable of driving safely and "even relieve him of control and take over the driving."

Everyone Can Be Grateful

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Thanksgiving is a time of summary gratitude.

Each person has his own private roll call of appreciation. But practically everyone can be grateful that:

Thanksgiving day doesn't fall on a Monday.

Nikita Khrushchev isn't twins.

The national election isn't until next year.

Declining buying power of money hasn't yet forced racetracks to put a $3-sign over the $2 window.

The holiday piece de resistance is turkey and not ostrich. (Think how weary you'd get of ostrich hash!)

The hard-hit television industry still has one thing to fall back on —Milton Berle.

The country no longer needs a good five-cent cigar. (It needs a good two-for-a-quarter cigar.)

Congress hasn't gotten around to investigating professional wrestling.

Santa Claus is still a full month away.

The football season is about over, and we won't have to worry about warming up baseball's hot stove league for at least six weeks.

The man in the moon still doesn't have foreign company.

Space suits won't have pleated pants—or need to be set off by a necktie.

The little folk from Mars haven't landed. (Or have they?)

You can charge things at the stores now and not have to start paying until January.

From now until Christmas all children, including teen-agers, will be on their good behavior.

Sex, despite all rumors to the contrary, is indubitably here to stay.

On one day in one country in the world no one Thursday has to go to bed hungry.

Does U.S. Mean Uncle Sucker?

By George Sokolsky

The politician, in a free country, prefers optimism. He likes to please as many voters as he can and he likes to voters to think well of him. He exhibits a keen mind by a swift answer to the most intricate problems, even if his answers are only glib.

When, however, it comes to such a subject as the continued outflow of the dollar from this country, a politician's optimism can be very dangerous.

As John R. Gibson, in "The Wall Street Journal," correctly says of the excessive outflow of both the dollar and gold:

"At stake, ultimately, may be nothing less than the danger that the dollar, which has been the world's strongest currency, might have to be devalued —an event that would mean painful price rises and savings losses for Americans."

Dollars are leaving this country in many ways and for many reasons. Foremost are our numerous forms of foreign aid, much of which goes to countries that no longer require aid.

The problem has ceased to be economic and has become political. We aid to keep a country either on our side or at least neutral. In several instances we have exported a great many dollars to Tito, Nehru and Nasser and have got no genuine goodwill in return. This is probably true of much of the $100,000,000,000 or more of foreign aid which we have scattered over the Earth like a drunkard.

Then, of course, there is the upkeep of about 650,000 American troops abroad in some 250 bases. The outflow of dollars to those countries where our bases are situated is enormous, not only for building materials, maintenance, but also for the daily expenditures of each military man and his family, if any. All those dollars go abroad and they do not come back to the United States fast enough.

In addition to all this, there are other forms of aid and private investments abroad, and the deposits in Switerland and other countries to avoid and evade taxes.

These are matters about which our government has always known and the danger has always been apparent. The Administration has not only not taken any rational steps to protect the American dollar and o safeguard our gold reserves but it has continued to spend abroad and to support the currencies of other nations until now we are in real danger. And so now we act as though we are running to a fire.

A new complication is the establishment of the Six Nation Common Market in Europe, led by West Germany and France, and the Seven Nation Free Market led by Great Britain. To this must be added the Soviet Bloc nations. These three groupings of countries can close the continent of Europe to American trade. We shall, of course, belatedly take reprisals and the world will be in such a trade war as has never been witnessed before.

One thing that both the Common Market and the Free Market must not force the American people to believe is this conclusion:

"Sure, when during World War II and between 1945 and 1957, we broke and in despair, you Americans very generously carried the burden of looking after all of us and the rest of the world to the tune of close to $100,000,000,000. You practically put a capital levy on your people. You taxed their initiative away. You permitted us to invade your markets and in many instances you arranged it so that your people paid more for goods than was charged in the world market.

"We admit that you have been very generous and that your generosity is a mark of the progress of civiliation.

"But now we are doing very well, thank you. In fact, we are doing remarkably well. We know that you are in trouble and we are very sorry for you. In fact, we should like to help you.

"But please, don't do anything to rock the boat. There are practically no steps you can take that will not hurt us. Therefore, please be careful not to take such steps as will hurt us."

To that only needs to be added the salutation, Uncle Sucker!

Dear Sir:

Your last article on retarded children greatly interested me as I am a mother of a retarded child who is now in kindergarden.

"Indeed we do have a great problem. The problem as far as I am concerned, along with my husband, is what we can do to best benefit our loved ones.

"We want the very best of schooling for our little boy as he is capable of learning but it takes a longer period of time.

"He has a wonderful teacher now, but her time is limited as to the time she can spend with him as an individual.

"I praise the people who have their names on the list that are willing to help our children as teachers.

"If the money has been ready for us to use for two years, how much longer will it take? I think all parents should be contacted soon, as to a meeting with the people who are to start the ball rolling.

"These dear children are getting older and need the guidance now, not years from now.

"If transportation is a problem, I'm sure that it can be solved once everyone works together.

"Please give the name of the people to be contacted who are in control of this great need.

"These children are tomorrow's adults. Let them earn their own way and make a place in their own community."

Sincerely,
Mrs. E. F. Siniff

P. S. "I know for a fact that ungraded classes are the thing. Our own personal doctor, for our son, said that was really the answer for our retarted child.

"I also want to add that those parties who have not done their part in starting a schooling program should be thoroughly ashamed not to have the interest in such a great problem. Evidentally they have no loved ones in this position. If they did I'm sure this problem would have been approached long before now.

"I also wish to thank this newspaper for the interest it has shown.

"Will everyone please help to work on this worthwhile cause. You can never be sure this terrible tragedy will not strike at you.

"Retardation has no preference to the rich or the poor."

Not All Heart Ills Serious

By Herman N. Bundesen M.D.

Heart disease generally results in heart trouble. But heart trouble does not necessarily result from heart disease.

Some heart troubles are simply that—troubles. They have no connection with any disease.

Some of them should cause no concern, others are signals of real trouble. Still other signals, such as shortness of breath, might mean something relatively unimportant.

We call these fairly common complaints "functional heart trouble." Heart trouble can be traced to these conditions far more often than it can to heart disease.

The usual symptoms of functional heart trouble are pains in the chest, heart-ache, faintness, easy fatigue and irregular heartbeats.

Trimbling, dizziness and sighing might be other signals.

Now pain in the chest, even near the heart, does not necessarily mean that you have heart trouble. It might be caused by something completely unrelated to the most important of all organs.

Nor is irregular beating of the heart always something to get excited about. Although it might feel as though your heart skips a beat, this really is not the case. Acturally, the sensation is caused by extra beats.

The heart may beat very rapidly for brief periods without anything really serious being wrong. Maybe you have been drinking too much alcohol or coffee. Too much smoking also can cause changes in the rythm of the heart.

Heart murmurs also often worry prople needlessly.

I don't mean to imply by all of this that the heart irregularities which I have mentioned should be ignored. Unfortunately, we can't often tell the harmless from the harmful without a thorough examination. Obviously, then, you should report every odd occurrence to your doctor.

But if he tells you that your heart trouble is "functional," and not to worry about it, believe him. Sometimes so-called heart trouble is completely harmless.

Big Insurance Firm Claimed Near Insolvent

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 million dollars in savings deposits are jeopardized by "a nationwide fraud," New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today.

He said an almost insolvent insurance company operating out of a back room in Tangier, Morocco, is the insurer of savings accounts in eight savings and loan associations.

Lefkowitz obtained a State Supreme Court order to examine 46 witnesses in his investigation of the international operation.

He said at a news conference that the savings and loan associations solicited deposits through mail and newspaper advertising offering a 5 per cent return.

He identified the Tangier firm as the International Guaranty & Insurance Co.

The court order, signed by Justice Jacob Markowitz, named three institutions in Chicago, two in Idaho and one each in Utah, Washington and Maryland.

Lefkowitz contended that the insurance company does not have sufficient assets to insure the depositors' accounts. He said the savings and loan associations "knew or should have known that false and fraudulent statements were contained in their own promotional literature and in the promotional literature of International Guaranty."

Western U.S. Steel Firms under Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Western steel processors today studied a government civil suit charging they conspired to eliminate competition in steel bars for concrete in seven Western states.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers asked that the Western Reinforcing Steel Fabricators Assn. of Oakland be dissolved and that it and 18 other defendants, including Bethelehm and U.S. Steel, be declared conspirators in violation of antitrust statues. The complaint said they conspired to restrict foreign imports and impede small fabricators, and used non-competitive and collusive bids to control the market in the rough reinforcing steel used in concrete known as rebars.

Give Yuletide Gift to Home

Most Appliances Make Life Easier

Perhaps this is the year to switch from a personal gift for him other and give something for the home.

Any housewife likes to have her household chores eased. Perhaps she could use a new automatic washer with matching dryer. One of the new washers comes equipped with a dispenser that automatically performs the bleaching chore.

If she's an amateur seamstress she will be forever enamored with a sewing machine—a new streamlined portable, or one of the stylish cabinet models, depending on her needs.

If she or he—or both—has a weight problem, a reducing couch or belt will be a gift that will reduce weight as well as tension.

A reclinning lounge chair will win the approval of the man of the house. And for a msuically-inclined family, a portable electric organ or a stereophonic hi-fi set will win applause.

Buying for a young ciuple? How about a table lighter, one of the beautiful new models fired by butane gas that will light for more than a year on one filling? Or for a conversation piece, a photo-electric cell clock that obtains its energy from the sun; the price of conversation is only $3700.

Here Is Gift For Children At Christmas

AP Newsfeatures

Christmas is the time for presents. The best presents are not always the expensive ones, but the thoughtful ones.

Take a good look at your youngster. If you have one child or more anywhere between the ages of 6 and 14, I'll make a picture of his or her life. Not all youngsters will fit, of course, but see where yours does.

The child goes to school — that one is easy.

Very likely he rides the school bus, or else you drive him to school, or maybe he goes in a car pool. There will be some children who walk or ride their own bikes to school. These don't fit this part of my picture.

In school he sits almost all day. For the younger children there may be a short recess time when he plays on the playground. He eats lunch at school, maybe has a little time for play after lunch, maybe not.

After school he rides the bus home, raids the refrigerator and settles down in front of the TV. Those who go outdoors and play vigorously are the ones who don't fit my picture.

Dinner time comes along and then there is homework to do until bedtime.

This is the life led by a huge number of children in this highly mechanized society of ours. The child spends a tremendous amount of his waking hours sitting and mighty little of it in vigorous activity. Gone are the days when children had to fill the woodbox before breakfast, lug out the ashes in the afternoon, walk long distances to school.

And what's happening to our children who enjoy the sitting life? They may be well nourished and seldom sick and they know a lot of facts, but their bodies are softening up under their soft life.

If this is so, we must go on a campaign to see that our children exercise more. We cannot manufacture woodboxes and ash cans, nor of course do we want to. But we can think up some forms of exercise that are fun. Then we need to provide the equipment and courage its use.

Schools need to do a better job in their physical education departments and maybe you as a member of the P-TA can encourage this, but in the meantime, how about some home gymnastics?

All of this leads up to my suggestion for Christmas.

How about rigging up a chinning bar?

It can be set up in a doorway. All you need is a piece of metal pipe just long enough to span a doorway and wooden supports nailed to the door frame into which the bar will fit. You can have several sets of supports at different heights for different children and also for different heights for different stunts. In addition to the bar and its supports you need a mat to soften the inevitable falls. An old mattress is ideal for this purpose.

Some suggestions about all the things your children can do on a chinning bar as well as why regular exercise is so important for our children can be found in Bonnie Prudden's book "Is Your Child Really Fit?" published by Harpers.

From a camera columnist's notebook:

Looking ahead. . .now's the time for camera fans to start on their photographic Christmas cards. . .the Yuletide season has a habit of sneaking up on you.

Looking further ahead: cross off Yugoslavia as a 1960 vacation possibility. Returning West German tourists reports new roadside warning signs in Yugoslavia — a black camera silhouette on a round metal plate crossed by two diagonal bars — meaning "Snapshots Forbidden." INSPIRATIONAL ITEM: Mrs. Carrie Turner of Cleveland, O., is a camera fan who loves to travel. Her memory and her photo albums are filled with pictures of Mexico, Bermuda, Canada, New England and the national parts out west. Nothing unusual about that, of course. . .until I read that Mrs. Turner has been blind for 31 years.

Her sightseeing is done with her other senses. . .listening to people commenting on the scenes . . .hearing the sounds of nature or of the locale . . . feeling the architecture.

How does she take pictures? By pointing a simple box camera at the scene with the help of a guide or fellow sightseers. Why does she take pictures? "Why, to share my trips with my friends back home," she replies.

Mrs. Turner may not have the eyes but she certainly has the heart of a real camera fan.

Another State Dun Sent to Ex-Official

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes dunned Clarence McLeod of Cleveland, former member of the old Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission, again today to repay salary McLeod received for the first half of October.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled recently that the old three-member commission was abolished Oct. 1 by a new law enacted this year by the General Assembly creating a five-member commission.

McLeod and Roy E. Harmony of Sidney, members of the old commission, continued to serve until McElroy's decision Oct. 26, because all appointments to the new commission had not been made by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Penny Sue Hoover Is Bride Of Laurence R. Dietrich

MRS. LAURENCE DIETRICH

Miss Penny Sue Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn E. Hoover, Route 3, became the bride of Mr. Laurence R. Dietrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dietrich, W. Franklin St., at 11 a. m. Saturday, November 14, in a double ring ceremony in St. Joseph's Church. Rt. Rev. Msgr. George O. Mason officiated at the Nuptial High Mass.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of bouquet taffeta designed with a princess panel bodice highlighted by a sabrina neckline of reembroidered Alencon lace etched with iridescents and tiny seed pearls. Long sleeves tapered to graceful points over her hands.

Her voluminous skirt which featured appliqued panier sides was complimented by an airy butterfly bow and terminated in a flowing chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported French silk bridal illusion was caught to a Queen's crown of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marlene Dietrich, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of soft chiffon in turquoise styled with a portrait neckline and velvet bodice.

Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Gibbs, Miss Marilyn Gaines and Miss Judy Lamier. They were attired in ballerina length gowns of soft chiffon in candy pink styled with portrait necklines and velvet bodices.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore matching velvet headpieces with circular veils. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a beige silk paneled sheath dress with black assessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the groom was attired in a royal blue wool ensemble with matching accessories and her corsage was pink carnations.

Charles Dietrich, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were Forest Easterday Jr., Edward Dietrich, cousin of the groom, and James Hoover, brother of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Pickaway County Country Club. Assisting hostesses were Miss Pauline E. Roese, Mrs. William Dietrich, Mrs. Nolo Gulick and Mrs. Robert Bennett.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a brick-red wool tweed walking suit with black accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Dietrich is associated with The Circleville Herald. Mr Dietrich is co-owner of the Circle D Recreation.

Following their wedding trip the couple are residing at 159½ E. Franklin St.

Mrs. McGinnis Wins Duck at Country Store

Mrs. Paul McGinnis, 464 E. Main St., was the lucky winner of the live duck given away at the annual Country Store held at St. Philip's Parish House yesterday.

Bird lovers will be happy to know that the fate of the bird will not be that of most of our plumed friends at this season of the year, but the lucky duck will take up residence at the farm of Paul McGinnis.

The bird sat as quietly as a milk glass hen on a nest 'midst the country atmosphere which pervaded the store all day. But it lsot its appetite as 200 jars of mincemeat and other specialty food items quickly disappeared from the food shelves.

Over 100 guests were served home style cooking from the country kitchen which held no room for a rocking chair.

Dozens of beautifully made aprons, kitchen style and dressy, were headed under someone's Christmas tree.

The women of the church wish to thank the public for their loyal and continuing support and would appreciate the return of any empty mincemeat jars.

Personals

David Hutzelman, sophomore at Kenyon College, Gambier, will spend Thanksgiving day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutzelman, 612 Guilford Road. Round lemon slices, to be served with fish, look particularly attractive if you sprinkle them with paprika and perch a tiny sprig of parsley in the center of each. If you want to be really fancy, notch the edges before garnishing.

'Ask Grandmother', Theme Of Monday Club Meeting

A receiving line dressed in garments of yester years greeted Monday Club members as they arrived for the evening program Monday in the Memorial Hall.

At the front of the room was a member wearing a sun bonnet and apron, stirring apple butter in a huge brass kettle. Another member was dressed in an old house dress and apron mixing bread in the old bread trough and churning butter in an old stone churn.

One of the old costumes was a man's suit which belonged to Felix Renick of Pickaway County. He wore it to the Ohio Legislature in 1851-52. The coat was partly machine stitched but the trousers were hand sewn and lined.

Also there were linen sheets, pillow cases from the Revolution days and women's stockings and mittens from the Civil War days.

The large collection of clothing was from the home of Hartford and Dhel Renick, Route 3, which dated back to the 1860's.

Another display belonging to Mrs. Walter Kindler was discussed by Mrs. James Carr. The display included valentines, Christmas cards, gold pen, old slate and pencil (1863), pewter glove fastener, crystal and sliver vinaigrette, lard (oil) lamps, snuffers and swift and fluting iron.

Following the business session conducted by Mrs. Harold Anderson, the program chairman, Mrs. Homer Reber introduced Mrs. Frank Morrison. Mrs. Morrison chose for her topic "Ask Grandmother—She Knows".

The terrific struggle of pioneer life left little time for recreation. Yet human nature existed even on at least a minimum of relaxation for body and mind—so with characteristic ingenuity, they chose some form of necessary work, sugar coated it and made themselves believe it was fun.

The house and barn raising, the husking bee, the quilting party, the apple bee and the spelling bee are examples.

The old-time apple-cutting and apple butter making were followed by a "Froic" where the old and young made merry. The floor was cleared, and when after midnight the fiddler called the "Virginia Reel". Such shouting, such laughter, such clatter of hilarious feet upon the sanded puncheon floor startled the screech-owl out of doors and waked the baby from its sweet slumber in the bread trough.

Few pioneer women in Ohio had any idea of the science of dietetics —a balanced ration. They brought to the table such foods as was available or was liked by their men folks.

An excess of sweets in maple sugar time, of heavy pastry and of starches, unrelieved by sufficient fresh fruits and vegetables left the average digestion in a lamentable condition by springtime.

This brought about the annual dosing with various evil tasting concoctions that were supposed to clear the blood.

Oldsters still shudder at the thought of hop tea and the dreaded mixture of sulphur and molasses which was poured down many a resisting throat in childhood.

The industrial revolution was a blessing to the over-worked housewife. It relieved her of a large part of the endless round of duties that wore out the pioneer women so pathetically and fatally that countless numbers of them died in early life.

A census of the old cemeteries, shows that a large proportion of the men lie peacefully sleeping beside a series of two or more wives who were in succession helpmates to those husbands in the desperate and gruelling struggle to transfrom the Ohio wilderness into the wealthy state which we enjoy today.

To continue in a lighter vein—what if the rustic went clad in home spun? What if silken gowns were unknown to the country girls in gingham and linen, who milked cows and churned the cream of other days? The boys went a-courting all the same, and the damsels in linsey were angels as white as cream and as full of sweetness as young maples in sugar-making time.

The evenings' program was concluded by the selection, "Over the River and Through the Woods" arranged by Fred Waring and presented by the Monday Club Chorus. Mrs. James Moffit directed and the group was accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Huston.

Dr. F. Moore Is Speaker

The Practical Nurses Association held its meeting Friday in the guild room of Berger Hospital.

Mrs. Francile Peters presided at the meeting. Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Frank Moore. He chose for his subject, "Carnary Thronbosis and the Nursing procedure and Treatment".

A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held December 18 in the guild room of Berger Hospital.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Be Sure To Count Blessings

If I were to set down all the things for which I have to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day, I could fill this page. But I would like to share with you a few unpublished letters from readers. And for these I am truly thankful.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you never hear from people to whom you have given advice, but here is one who wants you to know that in March, 1958 I wrote to you and asked you how to get over a love affair that was destroying me. (He was a married man.) You wrote me two pages of the best advice I have ever had. I carried your letter around and read it until it was so worn out I had to recopy it. Well, I took your advice, Abby, and I know you'll be pleased to learn that I am going to be married on Christmas Day to the most wonderful man in the world. Thank you for opening my eyes.

GLORIA X (Los Angeles, Calif.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I want to thank you for recommending ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in your column. We are both alcoholics. I have been dry for four years and my husband for six. I am sure you have educated many people who formerly felt that alcoholics were to be punished and cursed. On behalf of all of us who are fighting this battle, please accept our thanks for your understanding.

B. AND J. (Houston, Texas)

DEAR ABBY: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for telling me that there was a place like the Florence Crittenon Home for unwed mohers in Denver. You will never know how close I came to taking my life the day your letter arrived.

"JUST IN TIME" (Denver, Colo.)

DEAR ABBY: If you never write another line you will have earned you place in heaven for your answer to "FIFTEEN." The boy in the case was my son. Your advice, "Tell your parents. They are your best friends and the only ones who can help you" gave him the courage to talk to his Dad. Bless you, Dear Abby. May you live to be 100.

MRS. J.J.C. (Oklahoma City)

DEAR ABBY: Judy had a baby boy this morning and she asked me to write to you and give you the news first because you are the one who sent her here. She sends her love and says she will never forget you.

ANNA (Cleveland O.)

DEAR ABBY: I wrote you a five-page letter, Abby, but you'll never see it because I tore it up. But it will probably give you a lot of satisfaction to know that I found the answer to my problem myself just by writing it out. I hope ohers will do what I did. It is a lot cheaper than psychiatry and the principle is the same.

W. C. (WASHINGTON, D. C.)

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. Marion Carcioppolo was not the only one who cut out the letter to CANNOT BE CONSOLED and hung it it her kitchen. We lost a wonderful son in World War Two. A mother never gets over a loss like this. But, Abby, that letter in your column has also helped me to pray harder and to cry less. Thought you'd like to know.

MRS. H. L. (Philadelphia)

DEAR ABBY: My girlfriend and I are writing to tell you that a letter in your column giving both sides of the question to wheher an unwed mother should put her baby up for adoption or keep it helped us to make up our minds.

I am keeping my baby and she is giving hers up. You are so right, Abby. Each case is different. We remember you in our prayers every night.

BLONDE (Chicago, ILL.(

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "TOO LATE" from the woman who was "too busy" to go to visit her poor gray-haired parents hit home with me. Abby. I was also "TOO BUSY" to give my elderly parents the attention they deserved, but thank God I am not too late. You woke me up.

"NOT TOO LATE" (Pa.)

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Meeting Changed To Wednesday

Berger Hospital Guild No. 37 will hold its meeting Wednesday instead of tonight as previously planned.

The meeting will be held at 8:30 p. m. at the bus station with Mrs. Norman Ritter as hostess.

Ohio Quietly Launches One of Top Penal Programs in Entire Nation

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A few days ago, 28 inmates of Mansfield Reformatory were transferred to the Lebanon Honor Farm, Ohio Penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis stepped out and Beryle Sacks succeeded him.

On their faces, those little news items would appear to be a part of the routine operation of Ohio's big prison system.

But, add them up and they mark the dawn of one of the nation's most modern penal programs.

"Now we can begin to see the light," says M. C. Koblentz, Ohio's correction commissioner and head man of the third largest state prison system in the nation. Ohio has 11,500 persons in custody in its correctional institutions.

Transfer of the 28 Mansfield Reformatory inmates to Lebanon was no routine move. They are the first of a mass movement of 1,500 Mansfield inmates, who in another 18 months, will occupy the Lebanon Correctional Institution, now a-building.

And "Big Red" Alvis, the warden who probably has brightened more dark corners of the vast antiquated Ohio Penitentiary with his enlightened program than any warden in history, will set up shop in a few days as the first superintendent at Lebanon.

Events of the last few days will set off a chain reaction which, eventually, will result in the greatest reshuffling program Ohio's prison system ever has known.

The aim of the big brains-plus-bricks program — which probably will cost Ohio about 50 million dollars over the course of a decade — is quite simple:

To try to make better men of the 98 per cent of Ohio's prison inmates who will, in the course of years, be released to rejoin society.

When the reshuffling is finished, the state will have virtually two prison systems for men—one for northern Ohio and the other for the southern half of the state.

Mansfield Reformatory, built in 1896, will be converted into a maximum - security prison for about 1,800 adult men. The northern Ohio system also will include the Marion Correctional Institution, completed in 1955, and a similar institution at a site yet to be seleced in north-central Ohio. Boh Marion and the north-central institution will have capacities of 1,500. Both are intended for younger inmates.

In the process of converting Mansfield to a penitentiary, about half its population will be transferred to the new Lebanon Correctional Institution. The other half will go to the north-central about 1964, according to present plans.

Lebanon, together with London Prison Farm and Ohio Penitentiary, will form the southern half of the prison system. As soon as the population of Ohio Penitentiary can be reduced to about 2,500 (its theoretical capacity) penologists hope for a replacement—outside downtown Columbus—of the giant prison which now is nearly 90 years old.

More than 3,800 men are housed behind the high grey walls of the penitentiary less than a mile from the state capitol.

In addition to the north-south division of he prison system, present plans call for the transfer of the facilities of the Lima State Hospital to the Correcion Division. I will be used as a psychiatric center for about 1,300 prison inmates and as a research and training center.

What will the prison of the future look alike? And what will be the life of an inmate?

The answers to these and many more questions developed in an informal discussion in the warden's office at Ohio Penitentiary shortly after Sacks took over. Alvis and Koblentz were there to help with Sacks' briefing.

"The days of the cramped, four-man cell are passing," said Koblentz, "And the sooner the better. Take a look at the Marion Correctional Institution where we have 400 one-man cells and you begin to get the picture. Visit Lebanon next year and you will get the whole story—1,500 one - man cells and no dormitories.

"The chances of a man getting himself straightened out are far better, we have found, if he can have some privacy, having his private cell gives a man a chance to study—to think. At Lebanon, an inmate will be able to earn the right to go to class in the evenings if he wishes or to go to the library. He'll have a hall pass just like a high school student.

"Until the lights-out hour, the cell doors will be unlocked.

"You know," the commissioner added, "we have changed many of our ideas about security. The main reason that, until recently, there had been no prison construction in Ohio for 30 years is that it was too expensive. We thought the walls between cells had to be this thick."

Koblentz held his hands about two feet apart.

"Now we're building them much thinner. If an inmate knocks a hole in the wall and crawls through, so what? He's still in a cell, isn't he?

"We've come to the conclusion that security lies in the cellblock, at the gate and at the guard towers."

Question: Warden Alvis, you have been at Ohio Penitentiary 12 years. What are the changes in prison life in those years? What, primarily, have you been trying to do?

"Most of all, we have been trying to make sure every man has a chance to keep his self respect, to remain a man.

"If we know a man's first name, we try to use it. We don't shave their heads anymore; we even allow sideburns about a half inch long."

Q. What have been the results of this self-respect emphasis?

"For one thing, many of those inmates whose chief problem was alcohol are making good records in the outside. Those who keep their self respect are likely to keep their family ties more closely knit. And they develop better work habits."

Q. Ohio used to give a released inmate a poorly fitting suit and $5 and dump him out here on the front steps. Has that changed?

"Things have changed a lot in that respect," Alvis replied. "Not only the suits and the amount of money, but many other things.

"We, the psychiatrists, the social workers and the Bureau of Probation and Parole have worked hard on our pre-release program.

"Six to eight weeks before a man has completed his sentence or goes out on parole, he is started on an intensive course to prepare him for re-entry into society.

"We have the money for even a better program. We just can't find enough qualified people.

"But even with the people we have available, we have been able to do this: No man leaves this place without the guarantee of a job and in every case where it is possible, his family is prepared in advance for his return."

Q. To be worthwhile, such program must have a payoff. In other words, has the pre-release or planned - parole program resulted in any significant drop in the number of former inmates who return here in a couple of months or years?

Koblentz interrupted with a smile: "In the last year, even though we had 25 per cent more paroles than in the previous year, the rate of parolees returning to the penitentiary has dropped 21 per cent. That's the payoff."

Q. Mr. Sacks, no doubt you have some fresh ideas in mind for the operation of the penitentiary. Where do we go from here?

"Frankly, the new warden replied, "I do have a few ideas, but first of all I want to learn all there is to learn about the operation. It is a fine, forward-looking operation as it stands—without any changes. As I learn, I may find the ideas I have are no good or should be modified. At least, I'd rather not talk about them now."

Q. With the prison system prospects being what they are, how do you feel about the possibility of presiding over the final rites for this institution (Ohio Penitentiary)?

Sacks: "Great! I hope to do just that, unless I'm fired. And if I can't do the job, I should be fired."

Alvis: "Do you know, Mr. Sacks, there are only two wardens in the history of this institution who have not been fired?"

Sacks: "Is that right? Who were they?"

Alvis: "You and me."

Give 'Em Money, Honey

AP Newsfeatures

One gift that's always sure to hit the spot is plain old money.

People who get gray hairs worrying over the Christmas gift list would save time and trouble by simply sending a check and letting the recipient decide how to use it.

There are new and imaginative ways to send a gift of money this year. Banks throughout the country now have special - occasion gift checks, available at almost any bank. These may be enclosed with your regular Christmas card or in a seasonal envelope, also supplied by the bank.

Another bright idea is to open a bank account in a friend's name, and send the passbook in a gift envelope. This is especially good for small fry.

For a grown-up you could open a checking account and send a checkbook with his name and address imprinted on each check. Just go to his bank to place the order.

Or, as an off-beat gift, pay a year's rent on a safe deposit box for a friend who is careless about his valuable papers.

Great idea, money. Everybody appreciates it.

Nation's Chemical Industry Sees Competition Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—Competition from within and from without the chemical industry is growing almost as fast as the industry itself.

The Manufacturing Chemists' Assn., meeting here Tuesday, notes that chemical companies produce more than 10,000 products in some 12,500 plants.

The competition can be fierce between different companies producing the same products. It can be even tougher between different products out for the same markets.

There is also competition between changing processes for making products, between raw materials, and finally between the all-out chemical companies and outsiders with a chemical as a side product. And these last sometimes grow into full blown chemical divisions.

The association also notes that foreign competition is gaining. And part of Tuesday's session will concentrate on international relations.

Stelworker Ready To Strike Again

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "Even if it means eating mush until it comes out of my ears," said one steelworker, "I'm ready to go back on strike when the injunction expires in January."

His comment was typical of the attitude of some of the 5,900 production employes at the U. S. Steel Corporation's huge Fairless Works.

The men will be paid Wednesday for the first time since July, when the long steel strike began. Those few who returned to work on Nov. 7, right after the Taft-Hartley injunction was issued will be paid for eight days, through Nov. 14. The rest will be paid for four, five or six days.

Fatal Hillsboro Fire Is Ruled Accidental

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Three men inspecting a farm field found a half-starved dog tied to a tree Monday and nearby discovered the burned body of the dog's master, James M. White, 34. White had been missing from his home in southern Highland County since Nov. 13. Dr. W. M. Hoyt, deputy county coroner, ruled White died accidentally of burns suffered when his clothes ignited from a fire White had built.

Actor Yul Brynner was born in Vladivostok, Siberia.

Christmas Card Use Universal

There's quite a story behind those Chrismas cards you'll send and receive this year.

For a custom that is so well-established, that of exchanging yuletide greetings, is amazingly new—just over a century old—for it was in 1843 that the first Christmas card was published in England.

Since then,the sending of Christmas cards has become almost universal, although in some lands greetings are sent on New Year's Day instead of Dec. 25

Sir Henry Cole, an Englishman, created the first Christmas card in 1843. Cole had 1,000 cards designed with the greeting, "A Merry Chrismas and a Happy New Year to You."

The card shows friendly family party in progress; the olders with raised wine glasses in a toast to the person receiving the card. Although Cole was hailed for his idea in inventing the Chrismas card, and eventually was knighted, his greeting met with severe criticism because it showed children at the same table with the wine drinkers.

Another early Christmas card was designed by William Maw Egley of England, in 1848, also showing people in seasonal activities. Included are a family dinner in an elaborate dining hall, a young lady writing a Christmas letter, young man reading, and other persons dancing, skating and feeding the needy.

* * *

EARLY PUBLISHERS, meeting demands of the time,often included mistletoe decorations and sprigs on their cards. Marcus Ward and Co. of London depicted what apparently was a young rover hastening towards the lady of his fancy, holding mistletoe on high. "Ye Mistletoe Bough," said the card of the 1860s, "Wishing You a Merry Christmas."

The, first cards were unfolded pasteboards printed in color. Later, in the 1850s and 1860s, cards were die-stamped with designs combining ornaments and lettering. Larger cards became more popular in the 1870s, a study of the antique collection discloses.

"Father Chrismas," the English equivalent of Santa Claus, early became a favorite decoration for Christmas cards. Flowers especially the red rose and poinsettias, Holly, birds and animals were also widely used, possibly because of the brilliant coloring they offered. The traditional Chrismas colors—red and green—were widely used from the start.

Ships, trains and balloons became popular Christmas card decorations in the 1880s; automobiles appeared as early as 1903. A few years later the airplane was in vogue, continuing in popularity until the 1920s.

There were few religious scenes on early cards. They were not widely used until Christmas cards were printed in America by Louis Prang, who is credited with being "the father of the American Christmas card."

He began making Chrismas cards in Boston in 1875, and sponsored art competitions to obtain his card designs. Although Prang gave up Chrismas cards in the 1890s, he is credited with establishing in America the joy of sending and receiving Chrismas greetings.

After Prang's pioneering efforts, Chrismas "post cards" imported from Europe and England came into wide usage here. Hundreds of designs, from tranquil summer scenes to religious themes, were employed. The post cards started about 1895 and were most popular from 1900 to 1910.

Chrismas cards, much as they are known today, began replacing the post card around 1915. Yuletide greeting of the 1920s were heavily sentimental.

* * *

BY 1931 Christmas greetings more closely resembled the cards of today. By 1934, Chrismas cards were being created for individuals, such as mother, wife, sweetheart and for children. Such special caption cards are in great demand today, along with cards even for family doctors, milkman and the paper boy.

Cartoons by Walt Disney and poems by the late Edgar A. Guest made there debut on Chrismas cards in the 1930s as cards became more intricate with attachments and simple "mechanics."

The years of World War II brought patriotic cards, popular for servicemen overseas. Old Glory, eagles, warplanes and military insignia were depicted. Significantly, perhaps, cards with religious themes also were more popular in wartime.

In recent years, the works of world-famed personalities, including such artists as Sir Winston Churchill and Norman Rockwell and such writers as Ogden Nash and Norman Vincent Peale have proved popular as yuletide greetings.

Beauty of design, elegant styling the publics increased demand for greater quality and good taste—are dominant characteristics of the cards Americans will exchange this Chrismas.

Lawyer Guild Aide Indicted by Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martin Popper, 50, a New York attorney and secretary of the National Lawyers Guild, today was indicted on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities whether he was a Communist.

Former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell served notice on the National Lawyers Guild in 1953 that he intended to put it on the attorney general's list of subversive organizations.

Ohio Temperance Forces Gird For Onslaught against Liquor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's temperance forces are girding for a new onslaught against the liquor traffic. The drive through the state's churches has total abstinence as its goal.

The Ohio Temperance League's board of trustees, at its annual meeting Monday, issued a lengthy anti-liquor pronouncement. It asserts the league stands ready to cooperate with churches and individuals in carrying out a complete program of promotion, education and legislation.

"Surely," the pronouncement asserts, "an informed Christian church will arise to meet this issue."

Its resolution declares that the Temperance League:

"Voices its opposition to the present policy of the Ohio Liquor Department in promoting the sale of liquor by the maintenance of 'de luxe stores,' flamboyant presentation of the products, bargain sales and other methods designed to promte the sale of intoxicating liquors. Such means are contrary to the purpose of a state monopoly system and should be terminated.

"Notes the failure of the Liquor Board to uphold the rights of churches and schools under the so-called '500-foot law' and joins with the Parent-Teacher Assn. in recommending legislation be prepared to prohibit establishment of liquor outlets within 500 feet of churches, schools, libraries and public playgrounds, and seek its enactment at the next session of the Legislature.

"Recognizes with pride and joy and does approve and commend the action of the Temple of Good Will in banning the sale of liquor at the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus."

Steelworkers Ratify Ashtabula Contract

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — A two-year contract was ratified by United Steelworkers Local 381 Monday night, ending a 134-day strike of 1,020 hourly workers at Union Carbide Metals Co. Nine-cent hourly pay raises were provided for this year, with a wage reopener next July 13. A cost-of-living escalator clause was dropped, but 17 cents an hour received under such a clause in the previous contract was added to base pay. Provision was made for four-week vacations after 20 years instead of 25.

Knit Caps Good Present For Christmas

Associated Press Women's Editor

The most popular Mrs. Santa is the one who gives personal Christmas presents to the important people on her list — gifts made especially for someone dear or selected with individual attention. High on the list are hand-knit garments, planned with the needs and tastes of the recipient in mind.

There are many small accessories quick and easy to knit, which will delight everyone on the gift list. These include knit ties or socks for men, new bulky sweaters or scarfs for teenagers, hoods and mittens for children.

A bright idea for the knitting fan is a mother - daughter set of snug helmets with the tie scarfs for blustery winter winds. Done in bulky yarn with bit needles in simple ribbed stitch, with seed stitch border, they can be made in a few hours. An added advantage is the new wash-and-wear yarn which needs no blocking.

For free instructions for making these helmets, send stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Ann Bucilla, 230 Fifth Ave., New York 1, N. Y.

Mandarin Chinese is the most widely used language in the world. It is spoken by about 444 million people.

It's My Custom To Shop All Year, Says Mrs. F.D.R.

She is Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

"It has long been my custom to shop for Christmas presents throughout the entire year," she wrote in her recent book, "On My Own." Wherever I may be in January or June or November I always seem to be picking up some small gift that I think might please a member of the family or a friend on the following Dec. 25."

One reason for this custom is Mrs. Roosevelt's deep affection for the Christmas season.

"Christmas means a great deal to Mrs. Roosevelt," says Miss Maureen Corr, her secretary. "She loves Christmas and she loves giving."

• • •

THE FORMER First Lady always goes home to Hyde Park, N. Y., for Christmas. She likes to have as many of her children and grandchildren and great - grandchildren with her as possible.

But she also spends much of her time during the season attending parties for children less fortunate than her own.

"Her Christmases are necessarily-lavish because her family is so large," say Miss Corr. There are the five children, 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. She also gives to many others, "easily in the hundreds," her secretary says.

Mrs. Roosevelt has a Christmas book in which she keeps a list of what she has given to friends and relatives during the years. In this way she avoids duplications.

"The black book is quite thick," says Miss Corr.

In the book besides the children are such persons as Prime Minister Nehru of India former President and Mrs. Harry Truman, Queen Elizabeth a New York state trooper, and a White House telephone operator.

A fast shopper, Mrs. Roosevelt says she can buy a dozen or more presents during an hour's shopping in a department store. She also does quite a bit of shopping on her many trips abroad.

This was true early this year when she visited London, Paris, Israel and Iran.

"She has a special Christmas closet at Hyde Park where she stores the gifts," Miss Corr says.

As the end of the year approaches, the closet becomes quite crowded.

Ceramic Tile Sales Boom; Material No Longer Luxury

NEW YORK (AP)—The postwar building spree has given an old timer its biggest sales boom.

Use of ceramic tile goes back thousands of years. But in just the last 10, new techniques and materials have brought it out of the luxury class. This and the postwar rush of building have boosted sales in the United States by 143 per cent since 1949.

The Tile Council of America says costs of production and installation have been cut about 20 per cent since the war.

The council says it represents 27 manufactursrs turning out more than 90 per cent of domestic-made ceramic floor and wall tile. It says many of the new techniques and materials were developed at its own research center at Princeton, N.J.

Department of Commerce construction figures put the 1947-49 average annual production of ceramic tile at 104,800,000 square feet, and output in the 12 months ending June 30, 1959, at 235,956,000 square feet.

The council's figures show 99,146,000 square feet turned out 10 years ago. It estimates this year's production will reach 241 million square feet. It says facilities have been expanded to bring present production capacity to about 375 million square feet a year.

Like many other manufacturers, the tile makers are seeing their newly found bonanza threatened by foreign invaders. The volume of imported tile is rising fast. And the council says this year's tide of foreign ceramic building materials may capture 20 per cent of the American market.

The council, like similar industry groups, bewails the "exploitation of low-paid labor which permits foreign producers" to undersell Americans.

At the end of the war, domestic tile manufacturers offered about 30 different colors. Today they show more than 200. In the postwar years a trend toward diversity in size, shape and texture, offering the architect a large number of combinations, also has boosted use.

Increased production, along with the less costly materials and processes, helped bring the price down within reach of more residential and commercial building budgets. The tile salesmen also make much of its fairly cheap maintenance, which has a dollar and cents appeal to the commercial building operator.

The record high temperature recorded in the United States is 134 degrees noted in Death Valley, Calif., in 1913.

10 Local Stores In Charge Service

Ten local stores have banded together to provide a charge account service to local customers. The arrangement will begin operation Friday.

Called "Shoppers Charge Service", the operation will allow customers to charge merchandise at all 10 stores and receive but one monthly bill.

Teamed together in the service are Beaver Studio, Block's Economy Shoe Store, L. M. Butch Co., Circleville Hardware, Circleville Rexall, Miller - Jones Shoes, Moore's Store and Rothman's Department Store.

Circleville is the first small town in Ohio to try the new cooperative charge account service. It operates in most of Ohio's larger cities.

The service has its offices in Columbus. However, bills may be paid here at the Circleville Savings and Banking Co. or at the local member stores.

Customers will be able to make application for the charge account service at any of the 10 local stores starting Friday. If the application is approved, the customer will receive a charge - plate, to be used at any or all of the stores here. The stores will be identified by an emblem.

• • •

TWO TYPES of accounts are available to customers. One is a 30-day charge account, free to the customer. The other is called a Flexible Charge Account. The customer is to pay one-fifth of his total bill each month. There is no charge for the first month or any month in which the bill is paid in full. The remaining months, the customer will be charged 1½ per cent of the unpaid balance.

Customers will receive a monthly bill, with original sales slips from all stores where he made purchases during the month.

Fireside Fun In Comeback

AP Newsfeatures

Family fun is in style again. Maybe it's the effect of television. Maybe it's just the swing of the pendulum. Whatever the reason, the Gay Nineties custom of parlor games is back again full force.

The new game crop for this Christmas is long on games intended for the whole family rather than just the children. Competitive interest is scaled to fit the abilities and interests of both parents and small fry.

Some are based on popular television show formats. And the popularity of the game endures even after the TV show is off the air. After all, nobody is going to accuse a family circle of "rigging" a quiz game.

One new game, a top hit throughout the country, is based on concentration and memory. It's a streamlined new version of rebus puzzle solving, a favorite family game in great-grandmother's day. An ingenious rollomatic puzzle changer, providing 30 feet of rebus wit challengers gives an up-to-the minute touch. Players compete for fabulous make-believe prizes such as mink coats, diamonds and cars, represented by pictures.

Other currently popular games are based on Wild West adventures, often tied in with a television show cast. Some of these Western thrillers include Restless Gun, Wells Fargo, The Rifleman, Cheyenne and Sergeant Preston.

Still another revival of family games of long ago is the current popularity of mazes. The object is to roll a small ball from one side, in and out of an intricate maze, to the other side of a clear plastic box.

Clear plastic score cards give another modern touch to versions of old favorites. A wipe-off target game, for example, bases play on tracking down missiles and provides each player with a radar screen.

Andorra, a 1190-square mile republic in the Pyrenees Mountains, has been a sovereign nation since the year 1278.

Disc Jockeys Due To Face Federal Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Clark and Alan Freed, disc jockeys, face investigation shortly by congressional probers, it was reported unofficially today.

Newspapers here said the inquiry was being handled by the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight—the same group which conducted the recent investigation of rigged television quiz shows.

The New York Journal-American quoted sources close to the subcommittee as saying both are "being cooperative."

It said the subcommittee will study accounts and records of the two as "the opening step in a study of the financial affairs of big-name disc jockeys throughout the country."

The inquiry is to determine whether such persons in the entertainment professional have refor plugging specific records on their radio and television shows. Both Clark and Freed have denied any improprieties.

The New York Post said Clark has told friends he has been called to testify in Washington the week of Dec. 7.

Pennsylvania State University's summer school has grown from 146 students to more than 7,000 in 50 years.

What's for Wife? Give Her Clothes

One sure-fire tip for uncertain Santas is: give her something she can wear.

This year any girl on the Christmas list would love the new fur accessories that are all over the place — a handbag, a hat, a scarf or a mutt in any pelt, from mink to leopard. The lavish Santa will make it a set—handbag or hat and matching scarf.

The fur - trimmed cashmere sweater is another five-star feminine gift. This year a black cashmere cardiga with black fox collar would ring the bell, or a beige sweater with matching blonde mink collar, or a green one trimmed with leopard. Collars are detachable, to be worn with other outfits.

All men know that diamonds are a girl's best friend. And if diamonds are beyond the budget, there's plenty of good costume jewelry around that looks like real. Multi-strand necklaces and bracelets in colors to match a costume are bound to be a success.

College girls, of course, all want scarab bracelets and gold circle pins to wear on a shirt collar. Scarab earrings to match the bracelet make life complete.

• • •

NO HIGH school or college girl ever has enough sweaters so Santa is free to shoot the works here. Anything from high-priced cashmere to budget orlon or bulky wool will bring squeals of joy from the younger set.

Gay house coats in wool, orlon or quilted cotton will please most any woman, as will strictly feminine lingerie in sheer nylon tricot, vivid colors preferred, such as tangerine, red or even bright blue.

And of course, the really timid Santa always is safe with a dozen pairs of nylons.

Mankind has been smelting tin since at least 3500 B. C.

School Subsidy Funds Going Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Most of the 38½ million dollars being distributed this week to educational systems throughout Ohio will go for public school subsidies, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported Monday.

The rest will go to teacher and school employe retirement systems and state universities.

City, exempted village and local school districts will receive more than 36 million dolars. About 17 millions will go to local districts under county boards of education.

Bowling Green, Kent State, Miami, Ohio University and Ohio State—all state universities — will share $25,842 for teacher training purposes with nearly half going to Kent State.

Cincinnati's Budget Proposal Shows Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—City Manager C. A. Harrell has recommended the city spend $62,176,096 in 1960, or about four millions more than 1959 appropriations. In his budget proposals Tuesday, Harrell said he thinks city workers should get a 4½ per cent general wage increase but there is not enough money expected for this. He recommended a 3 per cent increase.

U of C To Build New Speedometer for Navy

The university announced the $100,000 grant for the research project today. The device must apply to all movement of any vehicle in water, on water, on land or in space.

Cheryl Martin To Attend National 4-H Dairy Meeting

Cheryl Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Martin, Route 2, Williamsport, will be attending the National 4-H Dairy Conference December 3-6 in Chicago. Miss Martin won this trip by being the state winner with her demonstration, "Producing Quality Milk".

CHERYL MARTIN

The quality of the demonstration is only part of the selection of out of state winners, according to Clarence J. Cunningham, Pickaway County Extension Agent, 4-H. Miss Martin was also selected because of her outstanding 4-H club record as well as participation in school and community activities.

During her seven years as a 4-H club member, Cheryl has completed 16 projects on which she has received all A grades. She has completed projects in beef, dairy, swine, and Junior Leadership. Miss Martin has served as health and safety leaders of her club and is a past president. She is currently treasurer of the County 4-H Jr. Leadership Club.

In addition to her activities as a member of the Perry Junior Livestock 4-H Club, she has participated in many school and church activities. She is a sophomore at Atlanta High School.

MISS MARTIN will be one of 10 youths from Ohio who will participate in the activities of the National 4-H Dairy Conference. While in Chicago the delegates will attend the International Dairy Show, have special educational features on dairy, tour the city of Chicago, and visit special points of interest such as the Museum of Science and Industry.

Advisors of Miss Martin's local 4-H club are Hoyt Martin, Harley Evans and Harold Skinner. Her trip is sponsored by the Ohio Dairy Products Assn.

DEFENDS PAYOLA — Fired by Detroit radio station WJBK after admitting he nearly doubled his $8,000 with payola, disc jockey Tom Clay defended the payola system as "part of the business" and "no more wrong than a small boy taking an apple to his teacher." He told newsmen it was not unusual for a Deejay to be offered 25 per cent of a recording company or 50 per cent of a song to play a record on the air.

Santa Will Like He-Sweaters

AP Newsfeatures

Husky sweaters for he-men are at the top of old St. Nick's suggestion list this year.

There's a rash of rugged, colorful sweaters in men's shops this winter, in the kind of bulky knits and easy styles that outdoor men prefer. Blanket plaids in brushed yarns are particularly in demand, available in both coat and pullover styles, with shawl collars, boat or V-necks.

The new sweaters go in for rich colors, suddenly in demand by even conservative males. Among the most popular are; dubonnet, blue, olive green, cognac, charcoal, heather, antique gold and of course black and white.

Cable knits in solid colors are right for men of all ages, and are available in a variety of styles.

If you're buying a sweater for the man in your life this Christmas, be sure to get it big enough. To be safe, buy a size larger than his suit size, as it's important for these new husky sweaters to be roomy. Don't be afraid of color. Even if he always has stuck to black or beige, this year he'll probably go for a cognac and black combination, olive green or dubonnet. These colors look new and thoroughly masculine.

Although bulky, the new sweaters are light in weight, thanks to new developments in yarns. They provide warmth without weight for active men, and are ideal for the hunter, the fisherman, the golfer and the country weekender.

Ohio Anxious About Roads

Federal Agency Due To Get State Prod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Department officials got ready today to ask the 35½-million dollar question.

They plan to confer as soon as possible with representatives of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The bureau is carefully controlling the federal dollars that go toward building a 41,000-mile Interstate road network which is supposed to connect the nation's major cities in the mid-1970s. The federal government pays 90 per cent.

Ohio is champing at the bit, hoping to keep its part of the Interstate program going full speed.

Three more contract lettings are scheduled his year—Dec. 1, 8 and 15. The department wants to include the 35½ million dollars worth of Interstate projects in those three if the bureau will allow.

In the 13 contract-lettings up to today, almost 106 million dollars worth of contracts have been executed. Another 87 million dollars worth, set up before the first of the year, have been executed now that such delays as right of way acquisition, altering utilities and other hold-ups have been cleared away.

Two Interstate projects were included in today's bid - opening. They are:

Hancock County—To build an extension of County Road 300 as a service road near the U.S. 224 interchange with Interstate 75 west of Findlay. Apparent low bidder E. J. Meyer & Sons Inc. of Ottawa, $15,938. State estimate $23,700.

Licking and Muskingum counties—Furnish and put up traffic signs along the 23-mile Hebron bypass stretch of U.S. 40. Apparent low bidder General Outdoor Advertising Co. of Chicago, $99,262. State estimate $184,600.

Other projects:

Greene and Warren counties — Convert five miles of U.S. 42 to four-lane divided highway between Waynesville and Spring Valley. Apparent low bidder V. N. Holderman & Sons Co. of Columbus, $2,243,775. State estimate $3,591,400.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS IS IN THE CARDS—Christmas, 1959, will be packed full of good things. It's in the cards, says the Greeting Card association, New York City, pointing out there are more than 40,000 different Christmas card designs to choose from this year. Among the most popular, according to a survey, are Santa Claus, floral designs, winter scenes, religious and "Season's Greetings." Most of them have sparkling tinsel for eye-catching effects. (Central Press)

Mother's Orders Alter Gunplay

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Parental discipline and the television western influence clashed headon yesterday. The result was—excuse the expression—a draw.

An after-school game of cowboy (a good man-bad man variety) was being acted out by a pair of neighborhood six-year-olds.

The dialogue:

Good cowboy: "Bang! You're dead. Fall down!"

Bad cowboy: "I can't fall down. My mother doesn't allow me to lie on the ground!"

Good cowboy: "Then close your eyes and lean up against the garage."

Bottled Gas Heater Brings U.S. Warning

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service has issued an urgent warning against a kind of bottled gas heater used in hunting and camping trailers. Apparently it has caused eight deaths in Michigan, officials said.

The heaters are called "Thrum Heaters," the health service said Friday, and may bear the model number "8M" or "8MNS." It said a faulty design results in a quick buildup of lethal carbon monoxide in the small trailers in which they are used.

AP Guesspert Picks Army to Sink Navy '11'

Texas Is Given Nod; Cincinnati Favored Over Miami Thursday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's turkey time, when some college football teams gobble up the opposition. We hope to give thanks for a good score this week.

Army over Navy: Each team needs a victory here to salvage a dismal season. The Cadets have the better attack and should prove it Saturday.

Texas over Texas A&M: How can you beat the Longhorns out of the Cotton Bowl when Bobby Lackey directs the scoring machine and guard Bob Harwerth keeps the opposition in check. They play this one Thursday.

Southern California over Notre Dame: No matter how cold it gets in South Bend on Saturday, the Trojans will get up a head of steam.

Georgia over Georgia Tech: This is the best Georgia team since the Sinkwich-Trippi era. It is a Saturday game.

Duke over North Carolina: Your Thursday TV tidbit. Two teams with disappointing records take it out on each other.

Taking a final, hurried romp over the chalklines:

THURSDAY

Colgate over Brown, Cincinnati over Miami of Ohio, Wyoming over Denver, Penn over Cornell, Richmond over William & Mary, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Wichita over Tulsa, Washington State over Houston.

SATURDAY

East: Boston College over Holy Cross.

South: Auburn over Alabama, Florida over Miami, Clemson over Furman, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Florida State over Tampa, Tennessee over Vanderbilt, South Carolina over Wake Forest.

Midwest: Air Force over Colorado Oklahoma over Oklahoma State.

Southwest: Baylor over Rice, Texas Christian over Southern Methodist.

Far West: Arizona State over Arizona, UCLA over Utah.

SATURDAY, DEC. 5

Maryland over North Carolina State, Syracuse over UCLA.

American League Attendance Climbs

BOSTON (AP)—The American League drew 9,149,454 fans in the 1959 season, its best attendance mark in 10 years, League President Joe Cronin said today.

The figure represents an increase of 1,853,420—about 25 per cent—over the 1958 attendance of 7,296,043.

The New York Yankees, who slipped to third place in the standings, led the league in attedance with 1,522,030 at home, and also paced the league on the road, drawing 1,967,793.

Of the eight teams, only Boston failed to show an increase in home attendance slipped 92,945 to 984,-102.

Cleveland enjoyed the biggest increase last season, drawing 1,-497,976 compared with only 663,805 in 1958. Pennant winning Chicago boosted its home gate 625,693 to 1,423,144. Detroit was the only other American League club drawing more than a million in 1959, with 1,221,221.

E. E. (Rip) Miller, assistant director of athletics at the U. S. Naval Academy, played tackle for Notre Dame's 1924 team.

Local Loop Slates 3 Tilts

The Circleville Ipdependent cage league has three games scheduled Thursday night at the local Coliseum.

Undefeated Veterans of Foreign Wars will take on Orient Farmers Exchange at 7 p. m. Williamsport will meet Barr's All-Stars in the second test and a match between Amanda and River Oil will follow.

VFW gained the league lead last week by handing River Oil a 74-72 defeat, the first of the season for the Chillicotheans.

Orient, a capable cage squad, is expected to give VFW plenty of trouble. River Oil, fighting to remain in the loop running, will face a formidable opponent in Amanda.

One Game on Tap Friday Night

One game appears on the Pickaway County basketball horizon Friday when Scioto Twp. opens its 1959-60 season against Boys Industrial School, Lancaster.

The BIS lads invade the Buffalo school for the first time. Scioto lost four of last year's starting five and will be rebuilding around the sharp-shooting of Roy Sanders.

Games on tap tonight include Darby at Laurelville, Monroe at Atlanta, Williamsport at Clarksburg and Saltcreek at Centralia.

National League Attendance Dips

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National League's attendance in 1959 declined 170,396 from the 1958 figure but the total of 9,994,200 still was the third highest in the loop's history.

Official figures reported today from National League headquarters showed the 1959 paid attendance was behind only the 10,164,-596 the loop drew in 1958 and the 10,388,470 it drew in the post-war "boom" year of 1957.

Myers Holds Scoring Lead

David Myers, one of the top favorites to cop the 1959-60 Pickaway County scoring crown, grabbed the first week lead in the race with a 27.8-point average.

The Williamsport senior six-footer has seared the nets for 111 points in four games. He is closely followed by another favorite, Atlanta's Ronnie Morris.

The slender Morris has pushed through 34 field goals and 13 free throws for 81 points and a 27-point average. Ashville's Bobby Hoover holds thrid with an 18-point average in just one game.

Three men are bracketed in fourth position with 15-point averages. They are Ashville's Richie Hollenback and Tom Rathburn and Walnut's Boyd Boone.

Stoutsville Tops Pickaway

Stoutsville overpowered an inexperienced Pickaway last night to chalk up an easy win, 58-33, on the Pirate court.

The Indians ran up a 17-8 first quarter and coasted to victory. Both teams substituted freely during the final period after Stoutsville held a 53-21 lead.

Bobby Sells found his scoring eye for 16 points from inside the key and the corner while Richard Bussert hit for 13 markers from out front.

Jim Cole and Gary Warner chipped in 10 points apiece. Earl Haddox led the Pirates with eight points. Stoutsville used a 1-2-2 defense. Pickaway cluntered with a 2-3 defense.

Stoutsville's reserve aggregation bounced the Pirates, 38-28. The Indians are undefeated in both reserve and varsity play with 2-0 slates.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Liquor Board received no comments on its liquor policies Tuesday at its quarterly meeting to hear comments and suggestions from the public.

Browns Given 9½-Point Edge Over 49ers

CLEVELAND (AP)—There is a great similarity between the Cleveland Browns and their opponents next Sunday, the San Francisco 49ers. Both are strong defensive teams with high-powered running attacks.

That the Browns are 9-point favorites to defeat the 49ers probably results from San Francisco's loss of starting quarterback Y. A. Tittle. Tittle's right knee buckled when he was tackled last Sunday. John Brodie, a second-year man from Stanford, will fill in for Y.A.

Four of the National Football League's top 10 runners will be on the field Sunday — Jimmy Brown and Bob Mitchell of Cleveland and San Francisco's J. D. Smith and Joe Perry.

Brown leads the league with 1,013 yards gained in 214 carries. Smith is second, gaining 788 yards in 161 tries. Perry is fifth with 582 yards in 127 trips. Mitchell, whose 90 - yard touchdown run against Washington was the league's longest from scrimmage this season, is ninth. He has rushed for 508 yards in 85 attempts and leads the league with a six-yard average.

Both teams will take 6-3 records into Sunday's game at Municipal Stadium but both lost last weekend. Pittsburgh defeated the Browns 21-20. The Baltimore Colts walloped San Francisco 45-14.

The 45 points scored by Baltimore are almost a third of all the points scored against San Francisco this year. The 49ers have permitted opponents to score only 147 points, the best mark in the Western Conference Cleveland has allowed fewer points than any team in the NFL, 124.

The San Francisco and Cleveland offenses score with about the same frequency. In nine games the Browns scored 215 points to San Francisco's 206.

Tittle Sidelined Until Colts Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Bald Eagle is on crutches today but he hopes to be wingin' again when the 49ers meet the Baltimore Colts here Dec. 5.

Y. A. Tittle arrived home Tuesday night and needed crutches to get from a plane at San Francisco Airport to a waiting car.

Tittle, injured Sunday in the 49ers' 45-14 loss at Baltimore, was in good spirits and grinning as his pretty wife and their three children ran to his wheelchair and planted kisses on him.

"It's not really so bad," Tittle said as he showed reporters his bandaged right knee. "We'll give it some treatment and I hope I'll be playing when Baltimore gets here."

Kingston Downs Southeastern

Kingston ran its junior high record to four straight victories last night by handing previously undefeated Southeastern a 37-26 loss.

The Redskins powered to an 18-6 intermission lead and held on for the win as the invading Panthers outscored Kingston in the final half, 20-19.

Danny Vollmar led the Redskins with 16 points. Gail Nichols and Joe Streitenberger racked up 10 and 11 points respectively to do the only Redskin scoring.

Barker was top man for Southeastern with nine markers. Next game for Kingston is next Wednesday against Unioto on the Chillicothe school's court. Both teams are undefeated.

Southeastern — Higgins 3-1-7; Moats 1-0-2; Barker 4-1-9; Walter 1-0-2; Jordan 1-0-2; Park 2-0-4; totals 12-2-26.
Kingston — Nichols 4-2-10; Streitenberger 5-1-11; Kelley 0-0-0; Delong 0-0-0; Vollmar 7-2-16 ;Davis 0-0-0; totals 16-5-37.

Jimmy Brown Behind '58 Pace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Cleveland fullback Jimmy Brown has passed the one thousand yard mark in rushing but he'll need plenty more steam to better his 1958 National Football League record of 1,527 yards.

Brown is far ahead in the race for individual ground gaining honors, NFL statistics released today showed. He has picked up 1,013 yards in 214 carries for a 4.7 average. Runnerup J. D. Smith of San Francisco has 788 yards in 161 carries for a 4.9 average. remaining games.

Dr. William E. Stevenson president of the college, said terms of the grant have been accepted by the college trustees.

Ohio State Basketball Team To Average 6-5 in Height

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The many "plus factors" about Ohio State's basketball team must be tempered with two facts, says their coach—a tough schedule and the youth of the club.

Fred B. Taylor made the comment Tuesday as he briefed sports-writers on the Buckeyes' 24-game 1959-60 schedule.

Taylor listed his plus factors as good size, shooting, rebounding, maneuvering speed, intelligence, attitude and talent.

The former Ohio State center listed size at the top of the list His sarting lineup averages more than 6-5 including 6-8 sophomore Jerry Lucas.

However, Taylor added: "You also have to have a little luck to be successful and if you go to sleep in our league, someone raps you."

Already rated in some polls as one of the nation's top ten, Ohio State meets Wake Forest here Dec. 1 in its opener. The Buckeyes play four home games in the first seven days of the season. Indiana and Illinois are the first conference games. The pre-conference slate includes St. Louis and Brigham Young.

"No one can accuse us of playing an easy schedule," Taylor noted.

In addition to Lucas, who broke most of Ohio's high school records in three years at Middletown, Taylor's team includes:

Larry Siegfried, 6-4 Shelby junior, one of the Big Ten's best guards last year with a 19.6 scoring average. Of him Taylor says: "We're counting on him as our back court quarterback this year. He's a real competitor."

Joe Roberts, 6-6, and Dick Furry, 6-7, both Columbus seniors, at forwards. Taylor says Furry has met the challenge of a sophomore trying to take his job, and that Roberts "when he is right, is very right—we look for Joe to have a fine year."

The other probable starter, at guard, is Mel Nowell, 6-2 sophomore from Columbus. Taylor says he's a good shooter, passer, feeder and has good hands, and that "he can take a bump and it doesn't bother him."

As for the other members of the Buck squad, John Havlicek, a sophomore, has been pressing for a starting chance at forward. Taylor says he's a "throwback to the old days—he likes to play defense." Havlicek, 6-5, from Lansing, Ohio, has great speed.

Then there's Richie Hoyt, 6-4, a Mount Vernon junior, and Howard Nourse, 6-7 senior from Springfield who probably will be used in spot assignments along with Bobby Knight, 6-4 sophomore sharpshooter from Orrville.

Gary Gearhart, 6-2, New Lebanon sophomore, and J. T. Landes, 5-11 Columbus sophomore, have been slowed by surgery during the preseason practice, Gearhart with an appendectomy and Landes with an abdominal operation.

The rest of the squad includes John Cedargren, 6-5, and Dave Barker, 6-2, both Columbus seniors; Jim Allen 5-9, Columbus, and Gary Milliken, 5-11, Waynesburg, Pa., both juniors, up from last season's junior varsity, and Nelson Miller, 6-3, Reading, Ohio, sophomore.

Woody Says 1960 Looks Very Rosy

CLEVELAND (AP) — "If I thought I would continue as a losing coach, my coaching days would be over," Woody Hayes of Ohio State told a gathering of Cleveland Buckeye alumni Tuesday night.

Hayes says he has "lots of good ones" for next fall's squad and that this year's freshman group was the "best we've had in nine years."

The OSU 1959 record of 3-5-1, the Bucks' worst season since 1947, was the fault of his coaching, Hayes said.

"We passed too much," he explained, adding:

"We felt last spring we lacked power and should pass more. We think we still can jam that ball down their throats. When you get fancy, you get beat."

Fumbles were tagged by Hayes as one of the chief causes of defeat. He said:

"If backs fumble, they should be benched. When a back comes off the field after a fumble, I want to see him crying, and I want it to hurt him."

But the coach feels also that he should shield the athlete from public criticism—at least to the extent of having no part of such.

"In nine years, you never have seen an unfriendly quotation in the paper from our staff because a boy made a mistake," he said.

"If the players make mistakes, they want to be told, and they don't want to read it in the paper."

The poor season just ended hasn't caused "as much growling as I had hoped there would be," Hayes said. "That may be because there wasn't a great team in the Big Ten this year," he continued. "The winning team, Wisconsin, lost two games and won from the last-place team, Minnesota, by only four points last Saturday."

Toledo Campaign Expenses Reported

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Groups seeking to retain the city manager system of government in Toledo raised $16,132 in funds and spent $8,398 in the recent councilmanic primary campaign, statements filed with the Lucas County Election Board showed today.

The City Manager League of Toledo listed receipts of $4,672 and expenses of $5,238. The Citizens Committee to Retain City Manager government listed contributions of $11,460 and expenditures of $3,160.

In the election, two proposed charter amendments which would have provided for an elected mayor were defeated.

Whole Family May Enjoy Christmas Party Activity

VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Family parties are the rage again. Bigger families created the trend, for how else can you entertain in a tiny house? Shut the youngsters up in a room? Perish the thought. Small fry will surely become mischievous and a nuisance, and why shouldn't they rebel? It is their home, too.

The easiest way to have fun during the holidays and see your friends too, is to invite them and their children. Maybe the house will take a beating, but that's to be expected.

The open house idea for holidays, popular generations ago, is a wonerful and inexpensive way to entertain. You can serve simple fare, exhibit your choice silver, decorative china and glassware.

One family uses the two-table buffet technique, one table for small fry, one for adults. If you'd like to experiment with it, keep everything on the tables pretty much the same. The cloths could be bright green or red felt or linen. The punch bowls could be the same. Hand crafted punch bowls look traditional, even though contemporary. Children could have a punch of fruit juice or a creamy milk shake. Parents can take their traditional egg nog with cognac, and the children will not be the wiser.

The menu on that day should be simple—small sandwiches, cakes, cheese, crackers. After all it's the get-together that counts, and if done between meal times, it will be fun no matter what is served.

The children's table could have small bowls of Santa-faced lollipops, candy canes, balloons to keep their interest alive. The eldest child in the household could be appointed host or hostess at the table, a good way to teach them the ways of gracious entertaining.

A gay grab bag filled with tiny inexpensive gifts that will keep the youngsters busy for a while can start the party off right—all the children might disappear with coloring books, things to build or push, and let the parents have fun. It's a good plan, and sometimes it works. A small record player in the children's area can hold their attention for a brief period.

If you have a large circle of friends, this party can be duplicated throughout the holidays. Once you have the essential decorations and table settings organized, there is nothing more to do but supply food and clean the house when the party is over, a much easier way to entertain that at a sit-down meal.

A great many clever hostesses do all their entertaining during one period. Once you have invested in a big cleaning chore, fresh flowers, new clothes, perhaps, why not entertain all your friends at a series of parties, and relax for a long time. It's one way to pay off a lot of debts with a minimum of effort and expense.

The first Miss America contest was held in 1921.
